Scheduled int'l flights suspended till Jan 31

India will keep scheduled international passenger flights suspended till January 31 next year, the Directorate General of Civil Aviation said on Thursday. Amid rising concerns over the coronavirus variant Omicron, the DGCA had on December 1 decided not to resume scheduled international flights from December 15, less than a week after announcing that it would restart the services.

How do you tell a story that's still being written?

Every minute
Every hour
Every day
India rewrites her story
It isn't even a single story
It's a tapestry of stories
Of a countless number of Indians
Who do not let yesterday hold them back
All they know
Is that they can use today
To script a tomorrow
That they want
So you hand it over to them
For only they can tell you
Where they will Take the story next

Prime Minister Narendra Modi pays tribute to Chief of Defence Staff Gen Bipin Rawat, at Palam Air Force Station | SHEKHAR YADAV

ON VIRAL VID: 'HAS IT BROKEN?' 'YES.'

A 19-second video, believed to have captured the moments before the crash, went viral and the Nilgiris police questioned those who recorded it. In the video, a group of people, believed to be tourists, is seen walking along a railway track looking towards the sky as a loud thud is heard and a chopper is seen disappearing into the thick fog. One person in the group is heard asking "odanchinducha (has it broken)?". The man recording the video is heard saying "yes". Sources said the video might have been shot from near the Runnymede railway station. "If it was indeed recorded from there, it could be a vital piece of evidence regarding the weather conditions at the time," sources added

A tri-services Court of Inquiry (CoI) led by Air Marshal Manavendra Singh has begun probing every aspect of the military helicopter crash in Coonoor, Tamil Nadu, that killed India's first Chief of Defence Staff General Bipin Rawat and 12 others on Wednesday. "The inquiry team reached Wellington (Ooty) on Wednesday itself and started the investigation," Defence Minister Rajnath Singh informed Parliament on Thursday.

"With high-end technologies, vulnerabilities like external interference have crept in. The ill-fated Mi-17V-5 helicopter is one of the most sophisticated helicopters in the world. Every aspect will be looked into, including that of sabotage," said a senior IAF officer on condition of anonymity.

Air Chief V R Chaudhari flew into Wellington hours after the tragedy and inspected the wreckage on Thursday. The probe team retrieved parts of the crashed helicopter, including its black box, and sent them to Delhi. Some blood samples were also lifted from the site. Air Force personnel also flew a drone over the area to get a 360-degree view of the site.

As the bodies of Gen Rawat and 12 others were transported by road from the Madras Regimental Centre at Wellington in Coonoor to Coimbatore's Sulur airbase, people stood on either side and paid floral tribute.

From Sulur, the mortal remains were flown to the Palam airbase in New Delhi, where President Ram Nath Kovind and Prime Minister Narendra Modi paid respects. The last rites of Gen Rawat and Brig Lidder will be held at Brar Square Crematorium in Delhi Cantt on Friday.

The severity of the crash made identification of the mortal remains difficult. "Positive identification of only four mortal remains has been possible as of now (Gen Rawat, Madhulika Rawat, Brig L S Lidder and Lance Naik Vivek)," the Army informed earlier in the day.

Close family members are being brought to Delhi for positive identification of the bodies and DNA testing.

The mortal remains will be kept at the mortuary of the Army Base Hospital till the identities are established. P9,11

BALA CHAUHAN @ Bengaluru

GROUP Captain Varun Singh, the sole survivor of the Mi17-V5 helicopter crash, in which Chief of Defence Staff General Bipin Rawat and 12 others were killed near Coonoor in Tamil Nadu on Wednesday, was airlifted from the Wellington military hospital to the Command Hospital in Bengaluru on Thursday evening.

A team of doctors, including intensivists and plastic surgeons, is attending on Singh, who, sources said, has suffered 85 per cent burn injuries besides other physical injuries and is admitted in the intensive care unit (ICU).

The Command Hospital is a super-speciality facility and has a team of experienced plastic surgeons.

Group Captain Varun Singh may be an extremely important source of evidence in the Mi17-V5 crash, provided he is conscious, according to Dr Shankarappa, Professor of Plastic Surgery & Burns at the Bangalore Medical College and Research Institute.

LACK OF NORMS

10K schools in state may shut down

ENS @ Bengaluru

UP to 10,000 private schools catering to poor and middle-class students are on the verge of closing in the state, due to their inability to adhere to safety norms due to lack of proper guidelines. This is also pushing private school associations to appeal to Opposition leaders to help address the issue at the winter assembly session at Belagavi, scheduled to begin on Monday.

The issue includes guidelines from the PWD, such as getting fire and safety certificates within a 10-day deadline. "Even today, lack of proper guidelines by the department paves the way for corrupt officials to make money and issue certificates. The department has become a market for issuing certificates. Unable to tolerate harassment by the department, small and medium schools, including some schools in rural areas and those run by mutts, totalling around 10,000, are on the verge of closing," said Lokesh Talikatte, president, Recognised Unaided Private Schools' Association, Karnataka.

Civic body yet to finish survey of out-of-school kids

94% of survey completed in urban areas

PEARL MARIA D'SOUZA @ Bengaluru

THE Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) is yet to complete its survey of out-of-school children though a similar exercise has already been completed in the rural areas and a report submitted to the Education Department.

As per official information accessed by The News Indian Express, 94 per cent of the survey has been completed in urban areas and within the BBMP limits.

In October, the civic body had sought two months' time to furnish the details to the Karnataka High Court.

However, on December 6, the amicus curiae had informed the Karnataka High Court, that in compliance with the court's order, door-to-door survey in the rural area has been completed.

However, insofar as urban area and the Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike limits is concerned, 94 per cent of the survey has been conducted.

The counsel for BBMP submitted that they will complete the survey and submit a final report.

Shortcomings of RTE

The case at the Karnataka High Court stems from a suo motu case initiated by the High Court in 2013, based on a news report in March that year wherein shortcomings in the implementation of RTE were pointed out and also noted that 54,000 students were out of school.

Data with the Sarva Shiksha Abhiyan, under the Department of Public Instruction, accessed by The News Indian Express on November 25 revealed that 27,725 children were out of school from rural Karnataka alone.

HC seeks status of unauthorised buildings

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

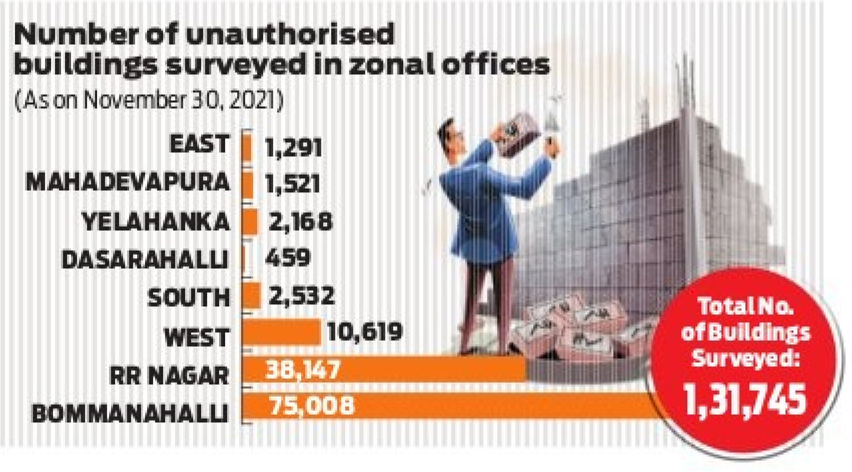
THE Karnataka High Court on Thursday granted the BBMP three months time to show concrete action taken against unauthorised buildings in the city.

"Despite the work you have done on paper, action should be seen on the field. You have demolished only three buildings. Our only effort is to sensitise you and make you aware of what is going on in the city. We will give you more time, but action should be seen on the field, not only on paper," a division bench of Chief Justice Ritu Raj Awasthi and Justice Sachin Shankar Magadum told BBMP Chief Commissioner Gaurav Gupta in court. This was after the BBMP had informed the court that they have surveyed 1,31,745 unauthorised buildings in the city. It also added that it has issued notices under Section 313 of the KMC Act to 16,286 building owners, for submitting documents to show that the buildings were not unauthorised constructions, and have received replies from 1,712 of them. The BBMP counsel also submitted that due proceedings will be held and final orders will be passed expeditiously in accordance with law.

The court noted that the BBMP counsel submitted that they need three months of time to show that concrete action has been taken and unauthorised constructions have been demolished.

Considering the submission made by the counsel for the Palike, the court said, "We grant three months to the BBMP to execute the action plan, as prepared by them, and file a compliance report on the basis of the statement of unauthorised constructions submitted to the court."

Meanwhile, the counsel for the BBMP informed that a personal affidavit has been filed, explaining the steps taken to identify unauthorised constructions and the action taken on the issue. The hearing was adjourned to March 15, 2022, while asking Gupta to appear again.



CREATE ACTION PLAN TO TACKLE DOG NUISANCE AT CUBBON PARK

Orally observing that the dogs inside Cubbon Park are a nuisance to morning walkers and there is no restriction on the movement of dogs and cattle there, which 'dirty' the walk paths, the High Court on Thursday directed the BBMP to come out with an action plan to prevent the menace of such animals at the popular green space. "This menace is very serious. If you do not act, we will have to take suo motu cognisance and issue notice," a division bench of Chief Justice Ritu Raj Awasthi and Justice Sachin Shankar Magadum warned BBMP. Further, the court observed that there should be rules for maintaining for domesticated animals and owners will have to get a licence to keep them. The court further questioned how dogs were permitted inside Cubbon Park. "In fact, so many dogs in the park affect morning walkers. People bring dogs to the park, as there is no restriction on their movement. No fee is charged, why? How these dogs are permitted in a public place? It is very dangerous," the court observed.

Students protest against law varsity

DONNA EVA @ Bengaluru

AROUND 250 law students gathered on Thursday at Maurya Circle to protest against the Karnataka State Law University (KSLU) continuing pen-and-paper tests, despite objections. In Hubballi, thousands of students have been protesting for the last four days, with many of them on hunger strike. One student has been hospitalised.

The students have been demanding the KSLU to switch to online examinations claiming arbitrary scoring in offline examinations. "Our previous semester results were very unfair, while many students still haven't got their results. They're adamant on having the examinations offline since it'll fetch them a lot of money with re-evaluation scams," alleged Rithvik Balanagraj, a student.

"We don't get our answer sheets after evaluation, so we have no proof that we've been incorrectly evaluated. With online examinations, we have a copy of our answer sheets and we can prove that we've been undermarked and forced to send our papers for re-evaluation," said another student'.

"It's happened to me a few times that I apply for revaluation in the subjects I've failed and I get 25 marks more. Do they expect us to pay for our marks? I can afford it, but what about students that are already struggling financially?," asked a student. The students said they had faced several other issues, including falling behind a semester due to poor online classes and the syllabus was not covered in time. Furthermore, due to the university making examination and timetable announcements late, students from other states had to suffer, they pointed out.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

10th December: Today's key sign is Aquarius. I expect many of you have heard that old song, 'This is the Dawning of the Age of Aquarius'. If you haven't, it's all about the coming of a new age of peace and prosperity. It's a nice thought. Perhaps today really will bring its share of good news about the future. I hope so!

ARIES
(Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
You may now wish that you hadn't shot your mouth off or been so open about your plans. There is no going back now, though, and you must learn to deal with partners' interests in your affairs as best you can. Relationships with children should be entering a calmer patch, though soothing words are still necessary.

TAURUS
(Apr. 21 - May 21)
Time is on your side, so by all means keep lines of communication open and continue trying to negotiate terms. After next weekend, the balance of power will shift dramatically, but briefly, in your favour. Children and younger relations may be confused, but it could be another two weeks before you can help.

GEMINI
(May 22 - June 21)
Now you must stay one step ahead of the planets and consider what will happen when negotiations break down or move behind the scenes. One thing you must do is make sure that you are absolutely sure of your facts. There is no need to finalise plans at home for another fortnight. And, if you do, they may come unstuck.

CANCER
(June 22 - July 23)
Being someone who is skilled at reading the hearts and minds of others, you must now see that partners are in genuine need of your help. You must not ride roughshod over people who have caused you no harm. You've done well financially and can afford to rest on your laurels, paying more attention to your emotional needs.

LEO
(July 24 - Aug. 23)
If you're experiencing difficulties at the moment, then they're problems caused by success. Even though the crisis seems to have gone off the boil, don't allow wrangles at home to continue to poison the atmosphere or undermine your confidence. And steer clear of people who have no regard for ordinary standards of behaviour.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
So many doors seem to be opening that you may not know which is the best path to take. Once the weekend is past, you will again be focusing on questions of principle: where, for example, do you really want your life to lead? In love, hang on to your secrets; nobody has the right to pry into the deepest recesses of your soul.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Perhaps you have tried to force too many changes through at home this year. Yet, whatever you feel now, if you are a truly sensitive person you will already be aware of undercurrents that are bound to produce further upheavals. You have about four weeks before you are obliged to face the truth, so make the most of it.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
You will probably be unaware of the stressful patterns sent your way by the Moon and Pluto. This does not change the fact that, one way or another, these planets will have their effect, perhaps through unsettling dreams, but also through your wallet! Emotionally speaking, you do seem to be on the right track.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Seldom have you experienced a period when close associates seemed to be so in command. One thing is certain, though: never have you been in such a position to benefit from partners' love and generosity - if only you are prepared to accept it. As your travel stars are strong, this is an ideal moment for second honeymoons and holiday romances.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
It may be time, once again, to point out a fact of life you too often ignore: this is a period of great change and, as such, one when you should not expect everything to be plain sailing. You must realise, though, that in every event is a thoroughly helpful and worthwhile lesson to be learnt and remembered for the future.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Perhaps you are only now emerging triumphant from a trial of wills at work. Even though diplomacy may not be your greatest asset at the moment, there seems to be little you can do to sabotage your professional relationships. Why not take the line of least resistance and let partners take the decisions - and the responsibility.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
Even when Mercury, which has such a powerful role in your ambitions, alters its position, this will do little to affect the status of a current agreement. It will, however, give you a breathing space in which to sort out various practical details. At this moment you have about another ten days before commitment is required.

Omicron infection depends on immunity level, not vaccine taken

Experts say all jabs blunt severity of virus, time to return to healthy lifestyle

BOSKY KHANNA @ Bengaluru

REJECTING assumptions that the brand of vaccine taken is cause for the spread of the Omicron variant of SARS-CoV-2 virus, experts and doctors said instead, it depends on each individual's immunity system, and that has to be taken into consideration to decide what kind of booster vaccine is required.

Doctors say the first Omicron-positive Bengalurean suffered from obesity and a poor immune response system. With Jayadeva Institute planning to undertake another round of vaccine response test on healthcare workers in the next few weeks, experts suggest a similar exercise be carried out at other medical institutions, and also by the health department randomly, to understand what type of booster shots should be administered.

Doctors and experts have joined hands with the state government to get every individual doubly vaccinated, so that there is no rush of cases for hospitalisation.

Health workers collect swab samples of a child at KSRTC bus stand in Bengaluru. The city saw 211 fresh Covid-19 cases on Thursday | SHRIRAM B N

"The 46-year-old doctor who tested positive has obesity and a poor response to antibodies, which is why he got infected. He had taken Covishield. But it cannot be said that the vaccine has poor efficacy. The South African traveller, the first Omicron-positive case in India, had taken Pfizer. It's the individual's resistance. In fact, this is the right time to revisit immunity-building systems which people did during the first wave, like eating healthy homemade food and exercising," the doctor said.

BBMP officials pointed out that five contacts of the doctor had also taken Covishield. The German woman who tested positive for Covid-19 had taken Pfizer.

Dr C N Manjunath, director, Jayadeva Institute of Cardiovascular Sciences and Research said: "Earlier in September, we had tested the antibody and immunity level of 250 healthcare workers, and 98 per cent of them had very good response. We are now working on a similar study in another two weeks on other individuals, as sufficient time has passed since they were vaccinated." Dr Manoj Kumar, Dean, Bowring Hospital, said vaccination does not prevent infection, but can reduce severity of the infection. Analysis of the vaccine's mechanism and antibodies is still on, and depends on the individual.

Dr K Ravi, Professor and Head of Department of Medicine, BMCRI, said there is no data on breakthrough of vaccines. There is also no data to state that a particular vaccine is not apt, or evidence whether the vaccine type booster or cocktail is good or bad. It is important for people to exercise caution.

Experts working with the government said: "Assessment is still on over how the Bengaluru doctor contracted the virus. The genome sequencing results and assessment of cases will help decide the type of booster doses that need to be rolled out, and when. The cases will impact the ministry's decision."

WORRYING SIGN

Amid new variant scare, active cases rise again

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

AMID fear of the Omicron variant of the SARS-CoV-2 virus spreading in the state, with at least two confirmed cases with the highly mutated viral strain, active Covid-19 cases in Karnataka are on the rise again.

Since November 24, the state has added almost 1,000 active cases. The number of patients being treated for Covid-19, either in hospitals or at home, was 6,412 on November 24, but since then the number has risen to 7,332, with a decrease in numbers on only two days. On half the number of days since November 9, active cases have recorded an increase — more so over the past few days.

A similar trend is being noticed in the capital Bengaluru, which has shown an increase in active cases on 17 days, in the duration of a month. The city saw its active cases fall to 4,833 on November 24, with a huge 8.94% drop from the previous day's 5,308, before rising to 5,509 as on Thursday.

Meanwhile, the state's recovery rate, which had been steadily increasing in the past four months since August 9, has lately been either constant or is dropping. After peaking at 98.5% on November 24, it stayed put for two days before dropping a notch. Since then, it has dropped to 98.47 per cent, as the number of active cases is rising and number of discharged Covid-19 patients remains lower than the fresh cases reported over the past few days. Bengaluru, on this front, has done worse than the rest of the state, with the recovery rate seeing a drop since it peaked at 98.31% on November 30, and dropping to 98.26% on Wednesday, recording the same on Thursday as well.

172 cases in schools, PU colleges

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

AS many as 172 Covid-19 cases have been reported among teachers and students in institutes across the state, said Primary and Secondary Education Minister BC Nagesh, whose purview is educational institutes up to Class 12.

Nagesh said that of these cases, 140 are from from residential schools. Even so, he said schools will not be closed and attendance will not drop across the state.

He assured that vigilance will be heightened at residential schools and hostels. For this purpose, an interdepartmental expert committee comprising health and education officials will be created at the local level, and officials will inspect adherence to Covid norms in hostels, residential schools and regular schools, although the focus will be on the first two.

The expert committee, asked if special SOPs need to be drawn up, suggested stringent inspection and that a joint committee of a District Health Officer and Block Education Officer be set up immediately, Nagesh said, adding that the committees will check the ground-level situation in both residential and regular schools.

"There have been fewer cases on Tuesday and Wednesday, there is no reason to fear and schools won't close for any reason," the minister added.

Good attendance for mid-term exams

Nagesh announced that two positive cases were reported in PU colleges — one in a residential college and another in Mount Carmel PU College. Although this comes in the midst of first and second-year mid-term PU exams, he said attendance was good. He said the PU II students will write their final exams in April. These students have not taken their first-year PU exams and the ongoing mid-term exams is practice to write a three-hour exams.

IIPMB Celebrates 29th Foundation Day

INDIAN Institute of Plantation Management, Bengaluru (IIPMB) recently celebrated its 29th Foundation Day and 19th Convocation. In line with its commitment to facilitate institute-industry interaction, an open house discussion was held with experts from Amalgamated Plantations Pvt. Ltd. (APPL, a Tata Group Company), UPASI, ITA and Commodity Boards to commemorate the Foundation Day. 252 students from its Fellow (PhD) program, PGDM-ABPM program, PGDM-FPBM program, and PGCM-IB program were felicitated as part of the convocation proceedings.

Vikram Singh Gulia, MD and CEO of APPL (Tata Group), Chief Guest at the event delivered the Foundation Day and Convocation Address, and M. P. Cherian, President, The United Planters' Association of South India (UPASI) presided over the ceremony. Members of IIPMB's Board of Governors, and other industry stalwarts graced the solemn occasion.

Dr. V. G. Dhanakumar, Director, IIPMB gave the welcome address and presented the Director's report. He focused on the progress of IIPM in the 29 years of its existence and the numerous awards won by IIPMB.

"More than 47,000 stakeholders have derived benefits from IIPMB's value-added capacity building programs that are based on its 4I philosophy — Intensive-Industry-Institute-Interaction, which is reflected in its Fellow (Ph.D.) Program in Management (FPM), its 3 Post Graduate Diploma in Management (PGDM) programs —Agribusiness & Plantation Management (ABPM); Food Processing & Business Management (FPBM); Agricultural Exports & Business Management (AEBM), other short duration Management Development (MDPs) and Professional Certificate Programs (PCPs), Reach-out Programs and Research & Consultancy studies on felt-needs of the sector," he stated.

He reported that faculty are working intensively in the area of agriculture export and advanced research & development in plantation sector through Institute's Centre of Excellence – National Centre for Export Management Research & Studies (N-CEMRS) and Centre for Advanced Management Research in Plantations (CARPS) and published papers in ABDC/ABS/SCOPUS/WoS listed and indexed journals.

"IIPMB is planning to commence a first-of-its-kind PGDM program in Animal Husbandry, Livestock, Poultry & Fisheries Management (ALPFM), and a four year UG program in Agriculture & Business Management (B.AgBM)," he said.

He also mentioned that the Institute has established corporate connectivity with 410+ companies for internship & placement of IIPM students. IIPM has signed MoU with CALS-University of Wisconsin, Madison, Harper Adams University-UK, Nottingham Trent University-UK, Royal Agricultural University-UK, RICEM-Rwanda, University of Nottingham-UK, University of Teknologi MARA-Malaysia, German Agricultural Training Center (DEULA) Neinburg, etc. to offer quality international experience along with experiential learning to the students for their holistic development.

ABOUT IIPMB

Conceived as a first-of-its-kind world renowned academic institution under the Ministry of Commerce & Industry, Government of India, IIPMB excels in the field of agribusiness, plantations, horticulture and allied domains, and is co-promoted by the Commodity Boards of India (Coffee Board, Rubber Board, Tea Board, Tobacco Board & Spices Board) and Plantation Industry Associations.

In his convocation address, Gulia, with a rich experience of over 35 years in the tea industry, provided glimpses of his journey and changing dynamics of the industry, and stressed that it was currently facing a crisis in terms of lack of competent technical and management manpower, effect of natural adversities, and dearth of innovative practices required to turnaround the industry.

"Students and faculty members of National Institutes like IIPMB can play a stellar role in reinventing the scenario through engaged participation and such entrepreneurial initiatives as creating and managing farmer collectives, intelligent procurement, and technology-driven enterprises," he opined.

Subsequently, M. P. Cherian, President, UPASI delivered the Presidential Address, wherein he stated that agriculture sector is vulnerable to climatic change, and a joint effort by the industry, institutes like IIPMB, and the new agri-management recruits have an opportunity to mitigate its effects. While appreciating the comprehensive and broad based curriculum offered by IIPMB, he proposed inclusion of precision plantation techniques that use satellite based technology innovations and remote sensing, in the syllabi to help the industry to optimise productivity and profits. He urged the students to be prepared to lead the change and exploit the technology that already exists, and to choose a career that offered not only professional growth but personal growth and satisfaction as well.

In the open house discussion as part of its Foundation Day program, Dr. V. G. Dhanakumar provided a brief on the development activities of the institute till date (that has made IIPMB self-reliant), through its PG programs, MDPs, Capacity Building Programs, and Research & Consultancy studies undertaken with the financial support from the Commodity Boards, Government and non-Governmental funding agencies.

This was followed by presentations by IIPMB Professors on the nature and types of training and research & consultancy projects undertaken by IIPMB since its inception, and the development of a contemporary curriculum for its PG programs. They outlined the multiple interactions IIPMB has with industry in terms of focused guest lectures, industry/field visits, live projects, case studies, policy studies, and corporate training segments. They also focused on the international programs conducted by IIPMB for participants from Sri Lanka, Belarus, Zimbabwe, Kenya, Italy, South Korea and Japan.

Some of the projects taken up by IIPM faculty members included such themes as structural infirmities in plantation sector, social cost, rubber stock assessment, grassroots workforce government and management, and tea planters' productivity enhancement, professional growth, and personal development. From the academic curriculum perspective the rigor of the teaching-learning process was highlighted. The recruitment data of IIPM students was also presented.

Based on the above, discussions and deliberations were held with the panel of industry experts, wherein Cherian suggested that the curriculum could include a 5-6 month of industry immersion cutting across various disciplines, for the PGDM students interested to make a career in plantations.

Gulia opined that IIPMB can play a role in assessing multi-cropping and animal husbandry enterprises in tea estates, and its students could interact with the HR department of APPL to bridge existing skill and knowledge gaps, as managerial opportunities existed in the sector. Gulia also showed inclination to partner with IIPMB for projects involving international agencies like UNCTAD, UNDP, and World Bank.

Santosh Kumar, ED, Harrisons Malayalam Ltd., expressed concern at the shortage of staff in plantations and spoke of opportunities for students in inter-cropping, IT and AI-led applications, processing, supply chain, carbon credit & certification and marketing. He along with Jeffry Rebello, Vice President, UPASI suggested that IIPMB can undertake policy oriented studies collaboratively with UPASI & KPA. Sanjith, Secretary, UPASI, stated that further study on Trading Reforms and price sharing formula of Commodity Boards could be undertaken. N. N. Narendra, Director of Finance, Coffee Board stressed on techno-synergy studies among stakeholders and said that IIPMB could play active roles in R&D issues in plantations. Arijit Raha, Secretary General, ITA also pointed out that the industry needed to be competitive to attract good students from IIPMB. He informed that two agri-export zones are being opened up in Assam and there is a huge opportunity to work with the industry/NGO, along with focus on technology-based interventions.

The interaction and deliberations ended with lot of optimism from the industry and IIPMB.

"The government will be issuing fresh guidelines to hostels on handling clusters, as per the expert committee,'' Bommai said. CM Basavaraj Bommai arrives to attend the Cabinet meeting in Bengaluru on Thursday | NAGARAJA GADEKAL

Bommai said the State government will be issuing special guidelines for hostels and clusters as per the expert committee, as more cases are registered here. They recommended that hostels be issued Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs), which will include sanitisation of the hostel premises twice a day, few or no visitors, mandatory two doses of vaccine for cooks and other staffers working in hostels, and that meals should not be served at one place to avoid crowding. This apart, they have also recommended provision for separate isolation rooms for inmates who test positive, he said.

At present, the government is declaring clusters where three or more Covid-positive cases are reported in Bengaluru, and SOPs have also been issued. He said the TAC has recommended continuation of adherence to guidelines, as cases are still emerging in a few places. Regarding the border region, he said vigil will continue, especially for those coming from Kerala, with RT-PCR test result a must. They also need to show double-vaccination certificates and Covid-negative certificate, and undergo RT-PCR test after coming to Karnataka. Ministers had suggested concerted vaccination drives across Karnataka. "We had organised special vaccination drives in May and June, and will organise similar ones in coming days," he added.

Use 'Codavas' to address Kodavas, HC tells state

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Madikeri

THE Karnataka High Court has passed an order directing the State Government to rectify the use of Kodagaru nomenclature to 'Codavas' or 'Codavaru' in all government notifications, while referring to the Kodava community. The order was passed in favour of Codava National Council, which filed a petition demanding the rectification.

In 2009, the Codava National Council had pleaded with the Karnataka Permanent Backward Class Commission to rectify the nomenclature from 'Kodagaru' to 'Codavas' in the government notifications. Though the commission had forwarded the request to the state, it remained unaddressed. Following this, a writ petition was filed by CNC president NU Nachappa at the HC, seeking rectification in the usage of nomenclature. After nearly a decade, the court order was passed in favour of CNC.

Separate property tax slab for industries in ULBs

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

IN an effort to ease the property tax burden on industries and to encourage setting up of more industries, the State Cabinet on Thursday decided to create a separate slab to be levied in industrial areas developed by the Karnataka Industrial Area Development Board and Karnataka State Small Industries Development Corporation coming under urban local body (ULB) limits.

This is being done by bringing amendments to Section 108 of the Karnataka Municipal Corporations Act and Section 94 Karnataka Municipalities Act.

Several industry bodies and organisations had made representations to the State Government stating that the property tax being levied on industries was very high and that they are facing loss compared to commercial establishments. Sources said Industries Minister Murugesh R Nirani took up the issue with Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai and the Urban Development Department to bring it before the Cabinet and get it approved. It is proposed that the separate slab for industries at a lesser rate than the commercial category will encourage establishment of more industries and, in turn, result in more employment opportunities. Though ULBs will incur financial loss, it shall be compensated over a period of time due to industrial growth and economic boost and the ULBs will be in a better position to carry out more development works.

As per Section 101 (2) of the Karnataka Municipalities Act, 1964, ULBs are empowered to levy property tax on commercial, residential and industrial buildings, and industrial areas. The ULBs are levying property tax for industrial buildings fixed for commercial buildings as there is no separate slab for industries. In the 2021-22 budget, former chief minister B S Yediyurappa had proposed a new slab for industries in ULB limits.

STAGE IS SET

Council elections could set the ball rolling for 2023 Assembly battle

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

AMID apprehension of the Covid-19 third wave, Karnataka will elect 25 MLCs from 20 electoral constituencies on Friday, setting in motion a poll that is being touted as a trendsetter for the 2023 Assembly elections.

The results of these polls are crucial for the three major political parties, especially the BJP, which has to achieve a majority in the 75-member Upper House by winning at least 13 seats, the Congress has 14 seats to defend and the JDS four. The national parties have fielded 20 candidates each, whereas Janata Dal (Secular) candidates are in the fray in six seats of Old Mysuru region. It is also a litmus test for Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai and KPCC president D K Shivakumar, as they face elections of this magnitude for the first time while at the helm in their respective parties.

The campaign has seen a virtual maelstrom of allegations and counter-allegations about candidates, with the BJP targeting Bengaluru Urban Congress candidate Yousuf Sharif even on the eve of the election, with allegations of grabbing government properties.

Inducements to the electorate, and distribution of huge amounts of cash also came to the fore in some constituencies where a stiff contest is on the cards.

In Vijayapura, a video of Independent candidate Mallikarjuna Lone went viral. In Chikkaballapura, a video of BJP supporters getting oaths administered before a deity's picture, committing electors to vote for their candidate, has also created ripples. The dual seat of Dharwad witnessed no aggression as national parties have fielded one candidate each, which means a sure-shot victory for Pradeep Shettar of BJP, brother of former chief minister Jagadish Shettar, and KPCC working president Saleem Ahmed.

Huge exercise

As many as 23,065 polling staff involved in the rigorous exercise of preferential voting, have been vaccinated with both doses of vaccine, the State Election Commission has claimed.

While the authorities claimed that most of the 99,000-plus electorate is vaccinated, they will need to present documents to ensure their entry into polling stations. Over 6,000 stations have been set up across the state.

It may be noted here that more than 50 polling staff from the education department had reportedly died during the bypolls to Basavakalyan and Maski seats in May 2021 due to the virus.

In Bengaluru, legislators can't vote

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI @Bengaluru

WHILE MPs, MLAs and MLCs across Karnataka will be exercising their franchise on Friday in the elections to 25 Council seats from 20 local body constituencies, their counterparts, including ministers, elected from Assembly constituencies coming under Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) limits, will not be doing so.

With the term of the BBMP council having ended in September 2020, the names of about 35 leaders, including three Lok Sabha members — P C Mohan (Bengaluru Central), Tejasvi Surya (Bengaluru South) and D V Sadananda Gowda (Bengaluru North) — and 24 MLAs belonging to the JDS, the Congress and the BJP are not included in the final electoral list for the Bengaluru Urban Council seat. Ministers V Somanna, R Ashoka, V Munirathna, Dr C N Ashwath Narayan, Byarthi Basavaraj and Gopalaiah also will not be voting in Friday's MLC polls.

"There is no elected body in the BBMP. When the local body itself does not exist, there is no question of ex-officio members," Karnataka CEO Manojkumar Meena told TNIE.

"Only the names of Anekal MLA B Shivanna and Bengaluru Rural MP D K Suresh are in the list since they are ex-officio members of the town municipalities in their respective constituencies," Bengaluru Urban Deputy Commissioner J Manjunath, who is also the electoral officer of Bengaluru Urban Council seat, told TNIE.

But the MPs, MLAs and MLCs of Hubballi-Dharwad have their names in the electoral list as the elections to the city corporation was held and gazetted recently, clarified Dharwad DC Nitesh Patil. Similarly, it is applicable even to elected representatives from Belagavi and Kalaburagi.

KPCC working president and BTM Layout MLA Ramalinga Reddy, who has been raising his objection to delimitation of 198 BBMP wards, regretted that the legislators will not be able to vote on Friday as elections to BBMP were deferred several times in the past.

57 seek assistants to cast votes in Mysuru, Ch'nagar

K SHIVA KUMAR@ Mysuru

WITH the stage set for the Legislative Council election to 25 seats from local bodies on Friday, 57 unlettered and visually impaired voters in the dual-member Mysuru-Chamarajanagar constituency have sought the help of assistants to cast their vote. Mysuru Deputy Commissioner Bagadi Gautham told TNIE that of the 57 voters, seven are from Mysuru and rest from Chamarajanagar district.

The taluk panchayats were tasked with listing out voters based on gender and literacy and it was found that many had learnt only to affix their signatures. Fifty seven members of the electoral college, who are either unlettered or visually impaired, have informed the local electoral officers to provide them with assistants to exercise their preferential votes.

As more than 600 votes were found to be invalid in the previous election, the electoral officers, apart from the political parties and the candidates themselves, have conducted training sessions for the voters on casting preferential votes. The candidates fear that invalid votes may mar their prospects.

Meanwhile, about 1,800 staffers were involved in mustering held at the Mini Vidhana Soudhas in Mysuru and Chamarajanagar. Polling will be held in 393 booths in which 6,771 voters including 2,172 men, 1,082 women and two Others will cast their votes. In the dual-member constituency, Dr Thimmaiah of the Congress, Raghu Kautilya of the BJP, C N Manje Gowda of the JDS and Independent candidate Vatal Nagaraj are in the fray. The voters are spread across 259 booths in Mysuru and 134 in Chamarajanagar. The polling booths are being manned by those who have taken at least one dose of Covid-19 vaccination. The election staff and cops have been directed to follow all Covid rules and ballot boxes will be brought to a strong room at Maharani Commerce and Management College where they will be under CCTV surveillance. Counting of votes will be held on December 14. The electoral officers have ensured that the booths have basic facilities including electricity, drinking water, toilets and other facilities. The district administration has imposed prohibitory orders and has ordered closure of liquor shops.

PEARL MARIA D'SOUZA @Bengaluru

A study of seven dairy units in Bengaluru has thrown up a grim picture, prompting the researchers to approach the State Pollution Control Board, Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike and Animal Welfare Board, among other authorities.

Aarti Bhavana, one of the three researchers of the Ahimsa Fellowship that conducted the study in Bengaluru, told TNIE said the shelters were checked against parameters set for dairies -- like ventilation, presence of dense dung around the shed, legal compliance such as registration by the dairy owner, whether licence has been obtained, and if the dairy has special watertight, non-corrodible containers to store dairy products intended for human consumption.

However, gross violations of all these norms were observed in all the dairies, said Aarti, who is also a lawyer. She said these inadequacies were indicative of the overall state of dairies in the city.

The study found that in most dairies, the animals were kept confined in close proximity to each other that did not even give them enough space to sit. The ropes used to tie the animals were so short that they were unable to maintain a natural posture. In some cases, these short ropes did not permit the animals to even move their heads to swat away flies. Many cows had enlarged and abnormal udders, indicating mastitis, in apparent violation of Section 11(1)(b) of the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals Act, 1960.

Mastitis is caused by excessive milking due to artificial insemination, which keeps them continuously pregnant and lactating, a condition which is profitable for the dairy but takes a toll on their bodies.

Every dairy the team visited had animals who were in pain due to starvation, thirst, overcrowding and other ill-treatment. Aarti said sick animals were not housed separately.

In violation of Rules 7 and 8of the Bio-Medical Waste Management Rules, 2016, and Section 288 of the Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike Act, 2020, the researchers found that bottles and vials — both used and full — were discarded along with syringes in heaps of garbage inside and outside the premises.

Milking was done in an unhygienic manner, with milk being collected in old paint buckets placed on surfaces covered with dung and urine, Aarti added. It's a clear violation of the Food Safety and Standards Act, 2006.

In some dairies, the cows' food was found to be infested with flies, or contained plastic. This eventually translates to milk having microplastic content, she said.

Similar studies were held by various researchers in Delhi, Maharashtra, Chhattisgarh and Odisha.

Man duped of Rs 1.80 cr over business loan

A businessman was cheated of Rs. 1.80 crore on the pretext of sanctioning a loan of Rs 100 crore. Manthena Tarun Gandhi, a resident of Electronic City Phase-II, lodged a complaint with the HSR Layout police on Wednesday. He had stated that his father-in-law P Krishnam Raju is running a business in Hyderabad. On December 1, two persons -- Vijay Bhaskar Sharma and Narasimha Rao -- went to Raju's office, claiming that they can arrange a loan of Rs 100 crore from a company in HSR Layout. "The next day, Raju and Sharma went to the office. The head of the company, Karthivelan, asked the victim to pay three months' interest of Rs 1.80 crore. So, Raju transferred Rs 90 lakh each to two bank accounts provided by the company," the police said. "The victim was waiting for the loan, but it didn't happen. When they tried to call him over the phone, it was switched off. Hence, a cheating case is filed against the company, Karthivelan, and others," police said. ENS

EVEN as the IAF ordered a court of inquiry into the circumstances that led to the helicopter crash in Coonoor, Tamil Nadu police on Thursday launched a parallel investigation into the incident. So far, 26 witnesses have been investigated by the team led by ADSP Muthumanickam, said a police press release.

IAF chief Air Chief Marshal VR Chaudhari, and DGP C Sylendra Babu inspected Nanjappa Chatiram, where the crash took place, on Thursday morning. Sylendra Babu told TNIE that the Nilgiris police has registered a case at Upper Coonoor station under section 174 (Unnatural death) of CrPC.

"We will investigate the incident separately on the basis of law of land. The Chief Minister instructed us to complete the inquiry without delay. The report would be submitted before the concerned court in the district."

Experts from the State forensic sciences department, led by director Srinivasan, collected material evidence from the spot. Aeronautical experts have been roped in to assist in the investigation, the DGP said.

Meanwhile, a 19-second video, believed to be the last moments before the IAF chopper crashed, went viral on Thursday. The Nilgiris police conducted inquiries with the persons who recorded it. The video shows a group of people, believed to be tourists, walking on a railway track getting curious by a loud thud seconds after a chopper disappears into thick fog. One among the group is seen asking vizhundhichucha (has it fallen)/ odanchinducha (has it broken)?; to which, the man who recorded the video replies 'yes'.

Sources said the video might have been recorded from near the Runnymede railway station. "If it indeed was recorded from there, it is a vital evidence to understand the weather condition of the place," sources added.

Meanwhile, DGP C Sylendra Babu lauded local police personnel for their role in the rescue operation. Constable Siva, inspector Prithiviraj, SSI Ravi, DSP Sasikumar, ADSP Muthumanickam reached the spot first, and, along with locals, rescued four victims alive including the lone survivor -- Group Captain Varun Singh.

NCC cadets and students pay homage to Chief of Defence Staff General Bipin Rawat and 12 others who were killed on Wednesday, in Chennai on Thursday | P JAWAHAR

Identity of only four deceased, including the Rawats, confirmed

When the bodies of the 13 persons killed in Wednesday's tragedy were brought to Shrinagesh Square at the Madras Regimental Centre at Coonoor on Thursday morning, onlookers noticed that only four coffins bore the names of the deceased. Chief of Defence Staff General Bipin Rawat, his wife Madhulika Rawat, Brigadier LS Lidder, and Lance Naik Vivek were the only victims who had been identified when the bodies were brought by three military trucks to the Square from the Wellington Military Hospital at 10.30 am. As the bodies of the victims had been completely charred in the crash, the identities of the nine others would only be ascertained after DNA testing in New Delhi. Official sources said autopsies of the deceased had been completed. ENS

The place where the IAF Mi-17V5 helicopter crashed was sealed for the public from a distance of 500 metres. For the second day, only the residents in the area were allowed to the place. Sources said recovery of all the collapsed parts of the helicopter will be completed by Saturday. ENS

Burn injuries severe in air crashes: Doc

SPEAKING to TNIE, Dr Shankarappa said that victims who have sustained as much as 90 per cent burn injuries have given testimony on fire accidents. "They are conscious and have given accurate testimony. They later succumb to their injuries because of infection. In this case, we don't know the extent of the officer's other injuries because the helicopter had crashed and the victims had fallen on the ground from a considerable height. Also, in air crashes, the burn injuries are far more severe than a domestic gas stove burst. They inhale a lot of smoke which causes lung damage. There could be injuries to the brain and heart, besides multiple fractures," added Dr Shankarappa.

Earlier on Thursday, Defence Minister Rajnath Singh had told Parliament that the officer is "critical, but stable." Singh is on life support and "all efforts are being made to save him," the Defence Minister had assured.

Singh had gone to Sulur to receive General Rawat and escort him to the Defence Services Staff College (DSSC), Wellington, where he is the Directing Staff. General Rawat was on his way to the DSSC to address the faculty and students at the institute. The Mi17-V5 had taken off from Sulur Air Force base at 11.48 am and was barely 10 km away from Wellington when it crashed.

Rawat's close connect with Belagavi

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Belagavi

AS the top boss of the Indian defence establishment, Chief of Defense Staff (CDS) General Bipin Rawat, who died in a helicopter crash in Tamil Nadu on Wednesday, had a close connection with Belagavi, the hub of the Maratha Light Infantry Regiment. He had visited Belagavi four times and was extremely proud of the work of the infantry.

On November 3, 2017, he reviewed the passing-out parade of newly recruited cadets at the Maratha Light Infantry Regiment Centre (MLIRC). Next, General Rawat participated in the centenary celebration of 'Sharqat battle' at MLIRC in Belagavi on October 30, 2018. He was the Chief of the Indian Army at that time. In his address on the occasion, he expressed pride in participating in such a great event. The history of the Maratha regiment started with the Sharqat battle victory (victory of 114 Mahrattas, now the Maratha regiment centre, in Sharqat, now in Iraq) a century ago. The regiment has a different recognition in the Indian Army and as a leading force it is ready to perform any tough task at any location, he had said.

The Belagavi Bar Association organised a condolence meet. Belagavi district principal and sessions judge Chandrashekhar Joshi paid tribute to General Bipin Rawat, all the officers and others who died in the chopper crash.

T'gana coal workers begin stir, ₹53kcr loss

HYDERABAD: Coal production came to a grinding halt at all mines of the Singareni Collieries Company Limited (SCCL) on Thursday as the workers launched their three-day strike, protesting against the Centre's decision to auction four coal blocks for commercial mining.

With all unions affiliated to the five central trade unions – INTUC, AITUC, CITU, HMS and BMS as well as the TRS-affiliated Telangana Boggu Gani Karmika Sangham (TBGKS) extending their support, the strike was near-total at all 23 underground and 19 open-cast mines.

More than 42,000 regular and around 25,000 contract workers of the company struck work on the first day, which according to officials, resulted in a total loss of two lakh tonnes of coal production per day. While the company incurs a ₹53,000-crore loss per day, the workers too suffer a collective loss of over ₹20 crore each day.

In Peddapalli, the union leaders expressed displeasure over the reluctance of people's representatives to support the strike, saying that the workers will teach them a befitting lesson in the upcoming elections.

In Godavarikhani, the unions took out massive processions and also staged sit-in dharnas in front of the offices of general managers. ENS

Bird flu outbreak hits Kerala's Kuttanad, 8k ducks to be culled

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Alappuzha

IN the wake of confirmation of bird flu, the Alappuzha district administration and animal husbandry department have begun culling of ducks at Thakazhi in Kuttanad. A meeting convened by District Collector A Alexander constituted 10 squads to cull the ducks after the outbreak was confirmed at Kunnumma South (ward 10) in Thakazhi panchayat.

"The National Institute of High-Security Animal Diseases (NIHSAD), Bhopal, has confirmed the presence of H5N1 subtype of the influenza virus in the ducks in the region. Birds within 1-km radius of the infected area would be culled. The AHD has identified around 8,000 birds for culling. The movement and sale of poultry, meat and eggs from within a 9-km radius of the hotspot has been banned," said the district collector.

In November last week, around 10,000 ducks reared by a farmer at Purakkad, close to the outer bund of a paddyfield in Thakazhy panchayat, died of an unidentified disease. Following this, the samples were sent to NIHSAD. The result that arrived on Wednesday has confirmed the presence of the virus in the ducks. Initially, the samples were sent to the Avian Disease Diagnostic Laboratory at Tiruvalla and the State Institute for Animal Diseases, Thiruvananthapuram, but they could not ascertain the exact reason for the death of ducks.

Apart from Thakazhy, over 13,000 duck deaths were reported in Nedumudi in Alappuzha district, Vechoor and Kallara in Kottayam district in the recent days. The animal husbandry department has sent samples from these places for analysis, but the result is yet to be arrived.

It is the second time in less than a year bird flu was confirmed in the region. Earlier this year, flu caused by the H5N8 strain of the virus was detected from six places in the Kuttanad region at Nedumudi, Thakazhi, Pallippad, Karuvatta, and Kainakary in Alappuzha district and Neendoor in Kottayam district.

Around 1 lakh birds, mostly ducks died or were culled in the two districts due to the outbreak.

The bird flu has been creating concerns for the farmers of the Kuttanad region over the past few years. This is the third outbreak of bird flu reported in the region in the past seven years. In 2014, more than 2 lakh ducks were culled after the bird flu outbreak caused by the H5N1 virus. In 2016, avian influenza caused by the H5N8 virus was detected among ducks in Kuttanad.

EDUCATE KIDS, SAVE THEM FROM CHILD LABOUR AND PENURY

The Covid-19 pandemic has dealt a heavy blow to the education of children in India. The Right to Education Act of 2009 guarantees free and compulsory education to every kid, but as a country, we have failed miserably to ensure quality education to our children. With the incomes of parents dwindling after the pandemic, many kids are forced to earn a living for the family. On the other hand, education has become a luxury for the children of thousands of migrant daily workers. Recently, a student from Virudhunagar in Tamil Nadu sought help from the district collector when his college tried to expel him for not attending online classes. The boy told this newspaper that he went to Tiruppur to work in a printing factory since he did not have a smartphone nor money to buy a new one. A probe revealed that this wasn't an isolated case. Many children had ended up working in nearby farms or faraway industrial units, and stayed away from lectures regularly.

As per the National Survey Sample Office report of 2017-18, just 10.7% of Indians own laptops and computers and only 23.8% have access to the internet. Buying smartphones, laptops and internet packs is not a priority for parents who are struggling to make ends meet. As per a recent survey, over one lakh students have been identified as Out of School Children (OSC) across four districts of Tamil Nadu. The education department is currently implementing a pilot project to bring them back to schools. The project, under the Central government's Samagra Shiksha, has unwrapped the gravity of the misfortune. Of the total dropouts, 28,774 have now been admitted back in schools. But nearly two-thirds are yet to return. The officials are making a serious effort to reach out to them through focussed intervention and door-to-door surveys.

Are we creating a society where children are kept off education? Bringing them back to schools should be the collective responsibility and priority of the state and Central governments. That is the only way to save children from penury.

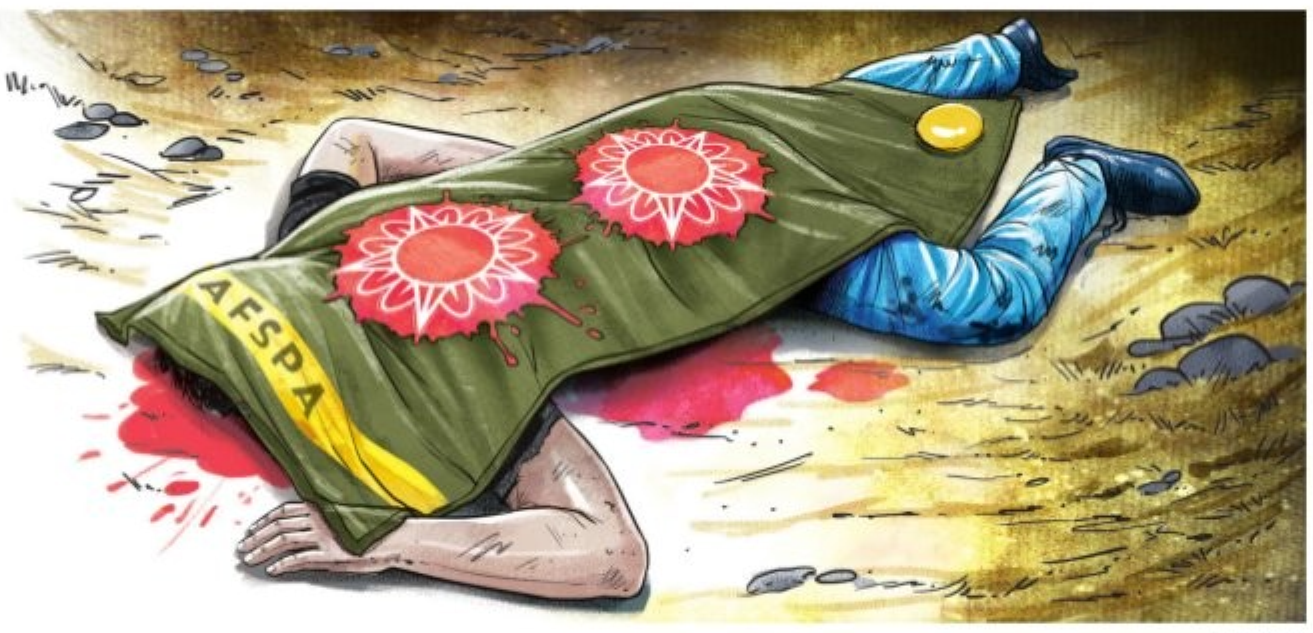
WAQF ROW SOLUTION DOESN'T LIE IN POLITICS

The dust and din created by the political tussle between the CPM and the IUML over appointments to the Kerala Waqf Board have drowned the valid demand for an independent mechanism for the process. The IUML is opposing tooth and nail the decision to entrust the selection to the Public Services Commission. The party sees this as an aggression on the rights of the minority community and part of the designs of an atheist dispensation to weaken the religious institution. The government, on the other hand, affirms that PSC was roped in as there is rampant corruption and malpractice in the Waqf Board. In reply, Muslim organisations point out that institutions where PSC is conducting recruitments are not free from graft either. Amidst the cacophony, Samastha Kerala Jam-Iyyathul Ulema, the body of Sufi Sunni scholars, has, in a memorandum to CM Pinarayi Vijayan, suggested that an independent board be formed for Waqf Board recruitments. More importantly, Samastha also said religious scholars should have a say in the appointments. Even after discounting Samastha's interest to get prominence in the board, the suggestions from the largest body of religious scholars in Kerala are worth pursuing.

It is not a secret that appointments to the Waqf Board are plagued with political intervention and nepotism. There are also allegations of mismanagement and encroachment of Waqf properties. The CM has made it clear that the government is not adamant on the issue. But for the ruling CPM, the controversy has provided an opportunity to divide Muslim groups and make further inroads into the community. Samastha's stand against holding protests inside mosques over the issue has further emboldened the CPM in its political battle against the IUML. But the government's aim should be to find an amicable settlement and it must resist the temptation to derive political dividends out of what is essentially a religious issue. It enjoys the support of the rival faction of the Sunnis led by Kanthapuram A P Aboobacker Musaliar. Samastha leaders also have expressed hope in the words of the CM that he will consult Muslim organisations on the issue. For the faithful, Waqf is the property of God, which should be handled with due respect and care.

The AFSPA gives sweeping powers to Central armed forces in areas where the Act is promulgated and protects them from persecution in courts. The danger from this is obvious

NAGALAND AMBUSH REOPENS OLD AFSPA WOUND IN NORTHEAST



AMIT BANDRE

PRADIP PHANJOUBAM
Editor of Imphal Review of Arts and Politics

Debates on the controversial law, the Armed Forces Special Powers Act (AFSPA), 1958, have stormed back into centre stage in the wake of the outrage against the killing of innocent coal mine labourers on the evening of December 4 in Mon district of Nagaland, home of the Konyak Nagas. The ambush by Indian Army para commandos, who are responsible for the tragedy, seems to have been intended as another surgical strike, but unfortunately an ill-conceived one. Of eight travelling in a pickup truck, six were killed on the spot. Seven more died when people from the nearby Oting village arrived upon hearing the gunshots and attacked the ambushers with machetes. They later also took out their ire on an Assam Rifles post. One Army trooper died in the violence.

According to reports, the ambush was based on an Army intelligence of Naga militants' movement in the area. And in the true nature of a surgical strike that crucially depends on the element of surprise, the intelligence report or the intent to act on it by the Army were not shared with the local police or the Assam Rifles based in the area.

Many are left surprised that even the Assam Rifles—India's oldest paramilitary force founded in 1835, officered by Indian Army officers on deputation, based primarily in the Northeast and tasked specifically with counterinsurgency responsibilities—was kept in the dark. Had this not been so, things may not have gone so horribly wrong. Now that the Government of India has indicated that an enquiry led by an Army Major General would be instituted to probe the incident, one of the questions everybody expects an answer to is: Why was an Army unit based in Assam chosen for this secretive operation in Nagaland, and why were the Assam Rifles and police bypassed?

As the dust from the violence begins to settle, there are many more intriguing questions emerging. Practically all Naga underground militant factions are now in a ceasefire agreement with the Government of India, so which of these groups was the Army intelligence tracking? Even if these groups were still engaging in unlawful activities such as extortion and intimidation, these should have amounted to breaches of ceasefire ground rules and not challenges to the Indian state.

Alternatively, if it is a group outside the ceasefire agreement that the Army was tailing, then it would have to be the Yung Aung faction of the National Socialist Council of Nagaland (Khaplang). But this group is essentially Myanmar-based. Is this faction still seen as a threat to India's integrity?

What is also confounding is, why did the ambush party go straightaway for the kill and not first try to have their targets surrender? From testimonies of the two survivors of the ambush who are now fighting for their lives in a hospital in Assam, they were attacked without warning and it continued though none tried to flee.

As the ambushers, the Army troopers would certainly have chosen a superior position. They would also have calculated their number and arsenals in order to be in a position to overwhelm the adversary. This being so, it should not have been a problem for them to block the single pickup truck trudging along a narrow winding hill road and put the occupants in a hopeless position even if they were actual insurgents and armed, to force them to surrender. Why wasn't even an attempt made for such an outcome?

Why did the ambush party go straightaway for the kill and not first try to have their targets surrender? ... It should not have been a problem for them to block the single pickup truck trudging along a narrow winding hill road and put the occupants in a hopeless position even if they were actual insurgents

There are now many more charges widely shared on social media, some outlandish but many plausible. One hopes the enquiry will also consider them and put them to rest with irrefutable facts for they will be crucial for the people, in particular the Nagas, to regain the trust in the establishment destroyed by this episode.

But beyond the enquiry, the Oting massacre has also opened up an old wound that the Nagas and the rest of the Northeast share—AFSPA, 1958. Two chief ministers, Nagaland's Neiphiu Rio and Meghalaya's Conrad Sangma, have come out to call for the repeal of this Act. Though their counterparts in the other Northeast states have remained tight-lipped so far, many civil organisations are joining the chorus calling for the Act's abrogation.

The AFSPA gives sweeping powers to Central armed forces while operating in areas where the Act is promulgated. These include the power to shoot or use force to the extent of causing death merely on suspicion; destroy structures believed to be insurgent hideouts; enter homes, search and arrest without warrant; etc. Above all, security personnel operating under the Act are protected from persecution in courts for their actions except with the prior sanction of the Central government.

Decades of counterinsurgency operations under AFSPA have ensured a climate of impunity in the region and security forces have come to internalise a sense that no action of theirs committed under this Act will be legally accountable, much less attract penalties. The danger from this is obvious. The present case is evidence of how real this danger is.

It is true that extraordinary situations would demand extraordinary measures and the AFSPA is one such. Arguments have also been forwarded that without the AFSPA, there would be no legal means to have the Army take on policing duty. To this, the answer is: Parliament has the power to amend or make new laws fit for the needs of the time. AFSPA could also be changed thus. Indeed, several Central government commissions, including the Jeevan Reddy Commission and Santosh Hegde Commission, appointed to look into the nature of the AFSPA had recommended precisely this. Unfortunately, nothing has been done so far.

SHOULD WE TAX THE DATA OWNED BY TECH GIANTS?

ATANU BISWAS
Professor of Statistics, Indian Statistical Institute, Kolkata

Regulators in different countries are now busy ensuring that the Big Tech firms are more accountable for the data they own or access. The General Data Protection Regulation in the European Union became enforceable in 2018, and it became a model in various countries across the world. A parliamentary panel was looking at the Personal Data Protection Bill in India. In between, there is speculation that China may be mulling the idea of imposing a 'data tax' on internet giants, which could be used to finance President Xi Jinping's "common prosperity" drive that aims to share wealth more equitably throughout the nation. It might also want to push antitrust measures so that internet firms no longer dominate big data markets.

Former Chongqing mayor Huang Qifan suggested such a 'data tax' in his speech in a Shanghai forum on October 24: "Platforms that own a large amount of personal data should return 20-30% of the revenue they obtained from data transactions to the 'data producers'." It might be interesting to note that the city of Shanghai released a draft ordinance in September: "Individuals, as well as corporations, have the right to benefit from the revenues generated by data transactions."

'Data' is the buzzword in today's world, society and businesses. People aim to use loads of data in planning for healthcare, education, politics, sports and whatnot. Back in 2006, British mathematician and data science entrepreneur Clive Humby coined the phrase: "Data is the new oil," which has become extremely popular since then. Still, does a 'data tax' sound a bit weird? Does it follow the four principles of taxation, namely, fairness, certainty, convenience and efficiency, as outlined in Adam Smith's 1776 book The Wealth of Nations? What is the value added when users are not customers of a platform but whose transaction data is being harvested for profit? Well, it might not be completely irrelevant to note that Shanghai just opened data exchanges to trade it as an asset class.

The idea of taxing Big Tech firms for their access to our data is not alien though. A 2015 research article titled 'Google search activity data and breaking trends' by Nikolaos Askitas and published in IZA World of Labor proposed: "...governments will have to encourage or even legislate for some kind of corporate good practice (for example, in the form of a data tax) to motivate firms with large amounts of data in their proprietary silos to open up the information in aggregate form for the benefit of society, while also protecting their legitimate corporate interests and privacy concerns."

In 2017, then German Chancellor Angela Merkel and the leader of the German Social Democratic Party Andrea Nahles mentioned planned reforms to tax big data. Nahles proposed a 'data-for-all legislation' to force a digital firm to open "an anonymised, representative sample of their data" as soon as "the firm's market share exceeds a certain limit for a certain amount of time". In the same year, the Rockefeller Foundation's Saadia Madsbjerg wrote in The New York Times: "Consider your data as something real and physical, like a car... [that] moves around a real, physical infrastructure... owned and operated by the internet providers."

In the 2020 American docudrama The Social Dilemma, a former Google employee says: "We could tax data collection and processing the same way that you, for example, pay your water bill by monitoring the amount of water that you use. You tax these companies on the data assets that they have"

About three years ago, then California Governor Gavin Newsom also floated the idea of a 'data dividend', saying that "consumers should also be able to share in the wealth that is created from their data." However, New York Assemblyman Ron Kim opposed the idea. "If we take this route, we're actually validating the extractive and abusive practice by tech companies," said Kim.

The 2020 American docudrama film The Social Dilemma also floated this question. In the film, a former Google employee says: "We could tax data collection and processing the same way that you, for example, pay your water bill by monitoring the amount of water that you use. You tax these companies on the data assets that they have."

Thus, this new Chinese proposal is not all novel in terms of its imagination. What remains to be seen is its implementation. And how would the tech companies react? In China, the shares of internet giants including Tencent and Alibaba slumped when the statement of Huang Qifan broke in the media. Some think that small internet companies would support the launch of a 'data tax' as it could help break the monopoly of tech giants. Of course, there will be concerns of double taxation as internet companies already pay business or profit tax.

While drawing the analogue of oil to data, Clive Humby emphasised, "It [unrefined oil] has to be changed into gas, plastic, chemicals, etc., to create a valuable entity that drives profitable activity; so must data be broken down, analysed for it to have value." As we observe, the world is now obsessed with collecting data and trying to frame business strategies by using big data analytics. The coffee shop or the superstore near my house always asks for my phone number whenever I purchase from there. However, can they really get the maximum out of this huge data? I always have enough doubt. Big data analytics is still in its infancy, let's be honest. And many Big Tech firms already have much more data than they can leverage. The former Google employee in the documentary The Social Dilemma thinks that the 'data tax' gives the companies "a fiscal reason to not acquire every piece of data on the planet". Who knows, maybe next time they'll not ask for my mobile number when I buy a cup of coffee.

A celebrated soldier

General Bipin Rawat was a soldier of the highest distinction and commitment, and his contributions to the modernisation of the Army will be remembered. In his demise, India has lost a front-ranking General who won the nation's respect and admiration for his strategic leadership in anti-insurgency operations in Kashmir.
Niranjan Sahoo, Bhubaneswar

He was a visionary

The shocking demise of General Rawat in tragic circumstances has plunged the entire nation into deep sorrow. He was a visionary who initiated many reforms in the Indian military's higher defence organisation. The 11 military personnel and Gen Rawat's wife, who were also killed in the chopper crash, will be missed.
R Sivakumar, Chennai

Thorough probe necessary

The unfortunate crash of the helicopter that carried 14 people including General Rawat must be investigated threadbare. The nation after all has not-so-well-meaning neighbours. Every possibility must be looked into.
Dr George Jacob, Kochi

No lessons learnt?

It's a horrifying accident. Have we not learnt enough after the untimely death of the then CM of undivided Andhra Y S Rajasekhara Reddy in a similar manner? Such grave accidents must be prevented in future with better protocol, foresight and caution.
Sathyam N, Tiruchanur

They will all be missed

The untimely death of the CDS, his wife and 11 other young and promising defence officials is a monumental loss. It is impossible to find and get back such skilled soldiers with brains and experience. Kudos to the local police and fire department personnel who immediately jumped into rescue operations and hospitalised the lone survivor of the crash.
M Somasekhar Prasad, Hyderabad

Led from the front

Gen Rawat led the Army from the front and served in forward areas during much of his illustrious career that spanned more than four decades. His sudden passing at this crucial juncture is an irreparable loss to the country.

Vax kids, expedite booster

This is with reference to No consensus in panel on Covid-19 booster shot (Dec 8). In view of the emerging Omicron variant threat, there is now a lot of discussion on a booster dose. Countries like the US have gone the whole hog on an additional dose. Meanwhile in India, all children still remain uncovered. It is therefore necessary to not only go for vaccination of all kids, but also inoculate others with a booster. The authorities should expedite their decision.

Poetic justice

The day Virat Kohli bulldozed his way to get the then chief coach, the legendary Anil Kumble, removed, it was the beginning of the end. A brilliant player, one expected Kohli to become more humble. A humiliating end but it's poetic justice. Nevertheless, we should thank Kohli for his contributions as captain in the 50-over format.

Nation mourns departure of bravehearts

PM and top army officials pay tribute to victims at Palam; Gen Rawat, wife and Brig Lidder to be cremated today

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

Wife and daughter of Brigadier LS Lidder break down in front of his coffin at Palam Airport on Thursday | SHEKHAR YADAV

THE nation went into mourning on Thursday, a day after the Indian Air Force helicopter crash that killed CDS General Bipin Rawat, his wife and 11 others. Prime Minister Narendra Modi and top military officials paid homage to the deceased at Palam air base after their bodies were brought to Delhi in a military aircraft.

Defence Minister Rajnath Singh, National Security Advisor Ajit Doval, Army Chief MM Naravane, Navy Chief Admiral R Hari Kumar and Air Chief Marshal AVR Chaudhari were among those present. "Paid my last respects to Gen Bipin Rawat, his wife and other personnel of the Armed Forces. India will never forget their rich contribution," the Prime Minister tweeted.

The Parliament expressed grief, people lit candles in different parts of the country and the Dalai Lama sent out a condolence message. When proceedings began at Rajya Sabha, its Deputy Chairman Harivansh informed the House about the accident. Reading out an obituary, Harivansh said General Rawat had an illustrious career. "In the last two years, Gen Rawat tried to bring transformative reforms in the security architecture of our country," Harivansh said. Saying that the late General will be fondly remembered, Haribansh said his commitment to the nation will remain example for the troops as well as the people of the nation.

Heart-wrenching scenes were seen at Palam airport as 13 caskets were lined up inside a hangar in presence of their family members. Modi reached out to the family members and talked to them for a few minutes.

An Indian Air Force aircraft carrying the bodies from the Sulur airbase touched down at Palam airport around 7:35 pm.

Only three of the 13 bodies have been identified so far — Gen Rawat, his wife Madhulika and Brigadier LS Lidder. Army officials said the bodies of those identified will be released to the families for last rites. Other bodies will be kept at the Army Base Hospital till they are identified.

The bodies of Gen Rawat and his wife will be kept at their 3 Kamaraj Marg residence for the public to pay final respects from 11 am to 12:30 pm on Friday. The slot between 12:30 pm and 1:30 pm will be kept for military personnel to pay their respects.

The final journey of Gen Rawat from his residence to Brar Square crematorium is scheduled to start around 2 pm. The funeral is scheduled for 4 pm. Brigadier Lidder's funeral would be held at 9 am. All the bodies were to be taken to the Army hospital Dhaula Kuan after the tribute ceremony.

In Dharamshala, Tibetan spiritual leader the Dalai Lama said, "I pray for the General and his companions and offer my heartfelt condolences to the members of the families of all those who perished in this unfortunate accident. I salute General Rawat's long-standing contribution in the service of the nation."

There was a bit of unrest in Rajya Sabha. The Opposition suspended its protest over the suspension of 12 MPs for a day as a mark of respect to CDS Rawat and others who died in the crash. They condemned the government for not allowing them to speak.

Homecoming in January that is not going to happen

THE wait will now be never-ending for the family of Wing Commander Prithvi Singh Chauhan. He was the pilot of the ill-fated helicopter. He was supposed to come home to meet his parents in Sarannagar in the Dayalbagh area of Agra, in January. His father Surendra Singh, 74, said this on Thursday. Engaged in bakery business, he had spoken to his Prithvi a few days ago.

The 42-year-old was the youngest of five siblings. He had spoken to his father regarding an appointment in the military hospital for his mother who was having an eye problem. "He was a caring son," recalled the father.

The family got the news of the crash from news channels after being alerted by Prithvi's eldest sister Shakuntala, who lives in Mumbai. The sister called up Prithvi to discover that his phone was switched off. Shakuntala then called up Prithvi's wife Kamini who confirmed the tragic news.

Wing Commander Prithvi was posted near Coimbatore. "Prithvi was my only son. My daughters are Shakuntala, Meena, Geeta, and Neeta," said father Surendra, sitting next to Prithvi's mother Sushila Devi, who has been inconsolable since Wednesday.

A young child who always wanted to fly high in the sky

Ailing mother not informed about son's tragic end yet

AGED 32, Naik Jitender Kumar had returned to duty on November 9, after spending time with his family in Dhamanda village in Madhya Pradesh's Sehore district. His family had no idea that was the last time they would see him.

Jitender's childhood friend Rajesh Verma recounted his days with the now departed friend. "Jitender joined army in 2011 and was a motivating force for villagers. He was a perfect human being, always there for every villager."

According to Rajesh, since the shocking news broke on Wednesday evening, village youths have been stopping outsiders outside the village, particularly journalists, from reaching Jitender's house. "We are trying to ensuring that his ailing mother's health doesn't deteriorate on coming to know about the tragedy, which is why we've been stopping outsiders from going to Jitender's house."

"He dreamt of serving the nation in uniform since childhood. He had started preparing for army when he was in Class VIII. He not only joined the army, but also motivated youngsters in the village to serve the nation," recalled his uncle Sunderlal.

Father spoke to armyman son shortly before boarding

A cloud of grief covered the hills of West Bengal as news of Havildar Satpal Rai's death came in. The 41-year-old was the personal security officer of the CDS. "He told me he was going to Tamil Nadu. I lost my husband. But I am proud that he died while performing duty," said Rai's widow Mandira.

Rai's son Bikkal, who is also in the Indian Army and presently based in Delhi, said his father talked to him on a video call hours before boarding the ill-fated helicopter.

Mandira said her late husband had come home for Diwali. "He was supposed to come home in April again and had promised us a vacation to some place," she said.

Expressing condolences, Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee wrote to Rai's mother. "I sincerely express my deepest condolence to the unfortunate and sudden demise of Late Havildar Satpal Rai due to the helicopter crash at Coonoor, at the age of only 40 years," an official statement quoted Banerjee as saying.

The chief minister said Rai's sacrifice for the country will never be forgotten. "The demise of this brave son of the hills is an irreparable loss. We will always remember him," her message said.

Village prays for hero Varun

NAMITA BAJPAI @Lucknow

GLOOM descended on Kanhauli village in Rudrapur Tehsil of Deorai on Wednesday when news of the IAF chopper crash arrived. Gallantry award winner and Group Captain Varun Singh, sole survivor of the mishap, originally belongs to this village in eastern UP.

Villagers were praying for the recovery of their brave son, who was decorated with Shaurya Chakra this Independence Day. Varun comes from a family of defence personnel spanning across the three services.

Currently, Varun's family is settled in Bhopal. He is the nephew of Akhilesh Pratap Singh, the national spokesman of Congress. His uncles Dinesh Pratap Singh, Umesh Pratap Singh, Ramesh Pratap Singh and Akhilesh stay at the ancestral home in Kanhauli. "Doctors have said the next 48 hours are crucial," said Akhilesh.

SITUATED 67 km away from Bhopal, Dhamanda village in Madhya Pradesh's Sehore district holds the distinction of having more than 20 of its sons in the Indian Army.

Despite that, the village has failed to get a proper road to connect with the Bhopal-Indore highway. One of its brave sons, the 32-year-old Jitender Kumar, was among the 13 who died in the helicopter crash in Tamil Nadu on Wednesday.

"He (Jitender) was my grand son and his father my nephew. He returned to join duty on November 9 through a potholed road. His mortal remains will return to the village on Friday or Saturday. And hopefully, through a proper or at least patch-worked road," Dhamanda village sarpanch Laxmi Chand told this daily.

The village, which is around 2.5 km from the highway, has been witnessing since Thursday hurried visits by government teams to ensure that a proper stretch is available to bring back the remains of the village's braveheart son.

"There are dumpers and JCB machines engaged in placing road stones and soil and levelling the mixture to ensure a proper road before our son's mortal remains return from Delhi. We've heard that CM Shivraj Singh Chouhan is also coming to pay homage. Perhaps this has accelerated the work to put the rickety road back in shape," the sarpanch added.

Dhamanda village is part of Sehore — the CM's home district — but still a proper road has remained a distant dream. "The last time a proper road was built was around 8-10 years back. That road has been in a woeful state since two years. People prefer not travelling on vehicles at night fearing accidents on this stretch," the sarpanch maintained. Dhamanda residents have raised the point with government officials on several occasions. "We've raised the issue with BJP MLA Karan Singh Verma on multiple occasions, but a proper road still eludes our village due to some reason or the other."

Now with Jitender set to come home for one last time, the village hopes it will get what it did not when their favourite son was alive.

Pressure on Cong to keep other parties together

RICHA SHARMA @ New Delhi

CONGRESS is under a lot of pressure in Rajya Sabha from its allies and other like-minded parties, who are resorting to arm twisting and making the grand old party follow their stand on common issues, to keep the flock together after the TMC decided to part ways.

Congress has the second highest number of MPs in Rajya Sabha after BJP. The party has been treading cautiously to ensure taking along all parties together to corner the government over people-related issues, after TMC chose to become an "autonomous Opposition".

Suspension of 12 Opposition MPs in Rajya Sabha saw Congress bow down to the demands of its allies and other like-minded parties to continue with protests inside the House. After some feelers from senior BJP MPs in the Upper House that the matter be resolved soon, Congress's chief whip in Rajya Sabha Jairam Ramesh convinced Opposition floor leaders to participate in legislative business, with the House passing the Dam Safety Bill on December 2.

However, the government did not blink and that "upset suspended MPs from other parties" who expressed anguish over Opposition MPs participating in discussions while they continue to sit outside over the government's decision.

Shiv Sena MP Priyanka Chaturvedi, who has been suspended, aligned with other suspended MPs — TMC's Dola Sen and Shanta Chhetri and Left MPs Binoy Vishwam and Elamaram Kareem — to take a hard stand and efforts by Ramesh to reach out to each of these suspended MPs and floor leaders of their parties did not help.

‘HOW CAN CIVIC BODY DECIDE WHAT PEOPLE WILL EAT?’

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

THE Gujarat High Court on Thursday pulled up the Ahmedabad Municipal Corporation for removing handcarts selling non-vegetarian food and directed it to expeditiously consider the cases of any petitioners seeking release of their confiscated property.

“What is your problem? You don’t like non-veg food, that is your lookout. How can you decide what I eat outside? Tomorrow you will decide what I should eat outside the house?” the court of Justice Biren Vaishnav said.

The petitioners submitted before the court that the move against handcarts selling eggs and other meat items in Ahmedabad began after a councillor from Rajkot got offended that non-vegetarian food was being sold on the streets.

At this, the counsel for the Corporation submitted that the petitions were filed under the misconception that there was a drive to remove non-vegetarian food from streets and, instead, said that the removal of these stalls was because they were causing hindrance to traffic and blocking pedestrians.

Justice Vaishnav enquired if the encroachment removal was being undertaken under the guise of targeting non-vegetarian sellers. “Under the guise of implementing something... For example, let’s be very honest, around the Vastrapur lake, if there were hawkers selling eggs and omelette (and) overnight you decide because the party in power decides we don’t want to eat eggs, we want to stop them. You will pick them up and take them away? Then why are you doing that? Ask your corporation commissioner to remain present here. How do you dare to indiscriminately pick up people like this?” the judge asked.

The corporation then further submitted that in case, the petitioners approach it within 24 hours for releasing their goods and materials, based on the policy and in accordance with law, their cases would be considered as expeditiously as possible. The court then disposed of the petitions.

Centre ask states to map vax requirement

This comes as nearly 19.19 cr doses remain unutilised and SII hinting to halve its production due to low demand

A health worker checks Covid vaccination certificates of the guests at a wedding venue in Ahmedabad on Thursday | PTI

SUMI SUKANYA DUTTA @ New Delhi

A review on the need of Covid vaccines is being planned with the states in the wake of the Serum Institute of India announcing that it looks to cut down the production of Covishield by half due to the falling demand, government sources said.

Covishield — the lynchpin of India’s Covid vaccination drive — comprise about 90 % of nearly 130 crore vaccine doses administered so far.

Officials in the Union health ministry said that it would ask each state for its estimate of vaccine doses needed for the coming months. “There is a huge pile of unutilised doses lying with the states and there is also saturation to some extent in the vaccination coverage as over 85 % of the eligible population has now received at least one dose while over 50 % of the adult population is also fully vaccinated,” said a senior official in the ministry.

“As the government is set to start procuring Covid vaccine by Zydus Cadila too, demands sent out to other manufacturers will get reduced as the overall demand is limited,” another official added.

While the Centre has so far provided over 139 crore vaccine doses to states, nearly 19.19 crore remain as balance and unutilised doses, still to be administered to beneficiaries.

Government sources also said that vaccine utilization patterns will also depend on India’s policy on booster and additional doses and how quickly vaccines are rolled out for kids and adolescents. “For all these issues, we are waiting for the green signal from the expert panel,” said the official.

A meeting of the National Technical Advisory Group on Immunization, which had met earlier this week, to discuss additional doses for the vulnerable group of population had deferred the decision.

‘Prepare hospital infra for possible Covid surge’

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

THE Centre on Thursday asked the states to ensure that hospital infrastructure is kept ready for any possible surge in Covid as well as to prepare a sufficient stock of critical drugs.

The expenditure under the emergency response and health system preparedness package is being centrally monitored, it said, nudging the states to release matching grants promptly.

At a meeting with state authorities, Union health secretary Rajesh Bhushan said that it needs to be ensured that all health facilities at the field level have functional ventilators, PSA plants, oxygen concentrators.

The ministry pointed out that many ventilators supplied by the Centre were still lying unpacked and unused at some field hospitals, with consumables not being procured and made available by the states.

“This needs to be reviewed immediately to ensure that all PSA oxygen plants, oxygen concentrators and ventilators are installed and functioning,” said the secretary.

Bhushan also urged the states to ensure to maintain adequate buffer stock for the eight critical drugs identified in clinical treatment of Covid, the guidelines for which were shared in July.

The government also alerted nearly 50 districts reporting higher case positivity to monitor the case trajectory on a regular basis, and to promptly dispatch positive samples to the mapped INSACOG labs for whole genome sequencing.

The ministry has emphasized on the close monitoring of new emerging hotspots or clusters, breakthrough and re-infection cases, and prompt investigation of such events by the rapid response teams.

‘Will apply for Evusheld approval in India’

Northeast CMs should protest unitedly: Outfit

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Guwahati

NORTH East Students’ Organisation (NESO) asked all chief ministers of the region to jointly push for the repeal of the controversial Armed Forces (Special Powers) Act (AFSPA).

The Northeast’s apex students’ body staged a protest across the region on Thursday in protest against the recent civilian killings in Nagaland’s Mon district. “We staged the protest against the barbaric act of the security forces that resulted in the deaths of 14 innocent people. It was organised also in a show of solidarity with our brothers from Nagaland,” NESO chairman Samuel Jyrwa said.

On the demand for the repeal of AFSPA, he said the Nagaland, Meghalaya and Mizoram chief ministers had already spoken against the contentious Act. “We demand Government of India should repeal AFSPA. Three chief ministers have already spoken against it. We call upon the other chief ministers of the Northeast to also take up the issue with the Centre. We want all governments of the region to jointly push for the repeal of this draconian Act.”

Taking part in the protest in Guwahati, NESO advisor Samujjal Bhattacharya questioned Assam CM Himanta Biswa Sarma’s silence on the issue. “We welcome the stand of the CMs of Nagaland, Meghalaya and Mizoram. Our agitation will continue as long as AFSPA is not repealed and the perpetrators of the Nagaland killings are not punished.”

Compensation to farmers a tricky affair

HARPREET BAJWA@ Chandigarh

THE farmers ‘suspended’ their protest after the Centre acceded to all their demands, including compensation for those who died during the year-long agitation. However, deciding on compensation is likely to be a tricky affair, as the Centre had just a few weeks ago told Parliament that it had no data on death of farmers during the protest and hence, there was no question of giving compensation.

In its letter to the farmers, the Union government has conveyed that Haryana and Uttar Pradesh have in-principal consented to provide compensation to the family members of the farmers who died during the agitation. But it seems this will take time as the state governments have to work out the modalities.

A senior officer in the Haryana government said, “The farmers will have to give us a list of those who died during the agitation and then a consensus has to be reached on the number of farmers who died. After that, the government has to verify the claims of the farmers on how many of them died, their cause of death, age, how and where they died. It will also have to set certain norms and parameters. Their death certificates will also have to be checked.”

The Samyukta Kisan Morcha claims that a total of 714 farmers from various states died during the stir which had lasted more than a year.

The Morcha had earlier asked the Centre to follow the Punjab model of granting compensation, which involves ₹5 lakh and a job to the next of kin of each of the deceased.

At a meeting held between farmer leaders and Haryana Chief Minister Manohar Lal Khattar a few days ago, the state government had agreed to withdraw the cases against the farmers but the talks broke down as no consensus could be reached on compensation.

The farmers’ delegation had claimed that 114 farmers from the state had died while government officials reportedly had a list of only 45. There was no agreement on the compensation amount either.

Don’t let BSF enter villages: Didi to cops

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Kolkata

WEST BENGAL Chief minister Mamata Banerjee on Thursday asked the police not to allow the BSF enter into villages outside its jurisdiction without permission, prompting Governor Jagdeep Dhankhar to alert her of ‘sending a wrong signal’.

At an administrative meeting in Nadia district which shares border with Bangladesh, Mamata asserted she would not tolerate the ‘torture’ of the BSF on innocent villagers.

The Centre has extended the jurisdiction of the BJP from 15 km to 50 km inside the international borders in Punjab, West Bengal and Assam. It recently informed Parliament that the decision would help combat trans border crime and illegal infiltration that triggered demographic change.

‘‘I will ask the inspector incharges to increase vigil and step up naka checking. Starting from Karimpur, we have border with Bangladesh. Remember, law and order is your (state) subject. You will also have to see that the BSF does not get into villages without permission and get involved in anything. The BSF does its work and you will do yours,’’ Mamata said.

Later, the Governor wrote to her saying that he was concerned at the ‘directives’ to the state apparatus. “These are not in sync with law or the recent Union Home Ministry notification increasing jurisdiction of the BSF from 15 km to 50 km. Your stance has sent disturbing signals and is potentially alarming for federal polity and national security.”

Tussle with Centre

Mamata alleges it is an attempt to interfere with the federal structure of the country. She had met Prime Minister Narendra Modi last month in New Delhi and demanded a rollback of the decision.

‘Decisions on SC judges collective’

KANU SARDA @New Delhi

CERTAIN decisions taken by the Supreme Court Collegium under him over the elevations and transfers of High Court judges were taken unanimously and were backed with evidence, former Chief Justice of India Ranjan Gogoi has said.

Giving details about the decisions, his autobiography ‘Justice for the Judge’ has laid bare the facts and circumstances behind several key elevations and transfers, including those of Justices VK Tahilramani, Pradeep Nandrajog and Rajendra Menon.

Revealing reasons for the transfer of Justice Tahilramani from the Madras High Court to Meghalaya in 2019, Justice Gogoi stated, “The decision was first taken in August 2019 after information, adverse in nature, pertaining to the learned Chief Justice, including her irregular and infrequent sittings in court, was received by the members of the Collegium. On cross-checking, some authenticity was found in these complaints.”

Justice Gogoi states that after the resignation of Justice Tahilramani, a complaint was received by the CJI office against her alleging the illegal acquisition of property in Chennai.

On Justice Nandrajog’s episode, Justice Gogoi stated that his name was agreed upon for elevation but the decision was kept in abeyance as the information was widely shared during a social gathering.

In the case of Justice Surya Kant, Justice Gogoi wrote that he was elevated as the Himachal Chief Justice ahead of his senior AK Mittal as Justice J Chelameswar during the Collegium proceedings had said that to his knowledge, Justice Mittal was not fit to be a chief justice.

Last Tuesday, the families of lower-rank police personnel had launched a protest demanding weekly-offs, salary hikes among others. The protestors were detained and lodged in Sapre school ground.

Practical classes to start once science exams are over

Several ICSE schools in Kolkata are planning to conduct practical classes before the first semester exams are over after the ICSE council’s announcement that marks of practical exams have to be submitted by January 31 instead of a month later. Schools are drawing up a schedule where ICSE (Class XII) science students will be called for practicals when their exams are over instead of waiting for completion of all the ICSE exams. Students have to be given enough hands-on practice to use equipment before they are called for exams, said teachers. Each student will have six to eight hours of class in every subject before the final practicals, said principal of a school. Besides science subjects, practicals will also be held in computer and home sciences.

Victoria Memorial Hall’s renovated gallery ready

Victoria Memorial Hall is going to open its refurbished first-floor gallery to the public soon. An exhibition titled Biplabi Bharat on the revolutionaries and their role in the Indian freedom movement will be showcased as part of this. “The first floor of the hall didn’t have as much space as the ground floor. Now we have created a more spacious hall by joining two adjacent spaces, besides setting up a restoration lab and a store,” said an official of the administration. The exhibition will use newspaper clippings and original artefacts, and have six segments. There will also be a projection point.

11 civilians tortured, burnt alive by Myanmar military

Witnesses say security forces captured people indiscriminately

YANGON

Protesters march through the streets during an anti-government demonstration in Mandalay, Myanmar | AFP

MYANMAR government troops rounded up villagers, some believed to be children, tied them up and slaughtered them, according to a witness and other reports. An opposition leader said the civilians were burned alive, as repression of resistance to a de facto coup takes an increasingly brutal turn.

A video of the aftermath of Tuesday's assault — apparently retaliation for an attack on a military convoy — showed the charred bodies of 11 people, lying in a circle amid what appeared to be the remains of a hut. Outrage spread both inside and outside Myanmar as graphic images were shared on social media of the assault, which Human Rights Watch said was similar to other recent attacks — and looked like it was meant to be discovered.

"This incident is quite brazen, and it happened in an area that was meant to be found, and seen, to scare people," researcher for the group, Manny Maung, said. "Our contacts are saying these were just boys and young people who were villagers who were caught in the wrong place at the wrong time."

Opposition spokesperson, Dr Sasa, said the attack began after a military convoy — which was raiding villages in the country's northwest — hit a roadside bomb. Troops retaliated first by shelling the village of Done Taw, then rounding up anyone they could capture there. "They were lashed together, tortured, and ultimately burned alive," he said, adding that the victims ranged in age from 14 to 40.

That group declared itself the country's only legitimate leaders in the wake of the military takeover on February 1 that prevented elected lawmakers from taking their seats in parliament. The seizure of power was initially met with nonviolent street protests, but after police and soldiers responded with lethal force, violence escalated as opponents of military rule took up arms. In recent months, fighting has been raging in northwestern areas.

UN spokesman Stephane Dujarric expressed deep concern at the reports of the "horrific killing of 11 people" and strongly condemned such violence, "

The government has denied that it had any troops in the area. But a witness told The Associated Press that about 50 troops marched into Done Taw at about 11 am Tuesday, seizing anyone who did not manage to flee. As of Wednesday, he said forces have killed more than 1,300 unarmed people, including more than 75 children, since the military takeover.

China hackers targeted regional govts: Report

BANGKOK

CHINESE hackers, likely state-sponsored, have been broadly targeting government and private-sector organisations across Southeast Asia, including those closely involved with Beijing on infrastructure development projects, according to a report released on Wednesday by a US-based private cybersecurity company.

Specific targets included the Thai prime minister's office and the Thai army, the Indonesian and Philippine navies, Vietnam's national assembly and the central office of its Communist Party, and Malaysia's Ministry of Defence, according to the Insikt Group, the threat research division of Massachusetts-based Recorded Future.

Insikt said it determined that the high-profile military and government organisations in Southeast Asia had been compromised over the last nine months by hackers using custom malware families such as FunnyDream and Chinoxy.

Those custom tools are not publicly available and are used by multiple groups believed to be Chinese state-sponsored, the group said.

The targeting also aligns with the political and economic goals of the Chinese government, bolstering the suspicion it is state-sponsored, Insikt said. "We believe this activity is highly likely to be a state actor as the observed long term targeted intrusions into high value government and political targets is consistent with cyberespionage activity, coupled with identified technical links to known Chinese state-sponsored activity," the company told The Associated Press.

China's Foreign Ministry did not immediately respond to a request for comment on the allegations.

In the past, Chinese authorities have consistently denied any form of state-sponsored hacking, instead saying China itself is a major target of cyberattacks. Of the cyber intrusions it tracked, Insikt Group said Malaysia, Indonesia and Vietnam were the top three targeted countries. Also targeted were Myanmar, the Philippines, Laos, Thailand, Singapore and Cambodia.

All countries were notified in October of the findings, though it is thought that at least some of the activity is ongoing, the company said.

"Throughout 2021, Insikt Group tracked a persistent cyber espionage campaign targeting the prime minister's offices, military entities, and government departments of rival South China Sea claimants Vietnam, Malaysia, and the Philippines," the company said.

GLOBAL SUMMIT

Dangerous moment for democracy, warns Biden

WASHINGTON

DEMOCRACY faces "sustained and alarming challenges" worldwide, US President Joe Biden said on Thursday at a virtual summit on democracy where he sparked controversy by pointedly not inviting China and Russia.

Biden, who took office in January amid the biggest US political crisis for decades, said trends are "largely pointing in the wrong direction" and that "more than ever, democracy needs champions."

"We stand at an inflection point," Biden said. "Will we allow the backward slide of rights and democracy to continue unchecked?"

"Make no mistake, we're at a moment of democratic reckoning," said Uzra Zeya, the Under Secretary of State for Civilian Security, Democracy, and Human Rights. "Countries in virtually every region of the world have experienced degrees of democratic backsliding."

The summit featured opening remarks from Biden and Secretary of State Antony Blinken. Biden went into the summit with the United States facing criticism over the foreign guest list and deep trouble on the domestic political front, with Donald Trump pursuing his shocking attempt to discredit the 2020 election. AFP

U.S. CITES CHINESE TIES TO END ARMS SUPPLY TO CAMBODIA

The US has ordered an arms embargo on Cambodia, citing deepening Chinese military influence, corruption and human rights abuses by the government and armed forces in the Southeast Asian country

BEIJING'S GROWING FOOTPRINT

Since direct military ties between the two countries were restored in 2006, the US has pledged millions in military aid to Cambodia, initially to help improve its border security and peacekeeping operations.

China is Cambodia's biggest investor and closest political partner. Beijing's support allows Cambodia to disregard Western concerns about its poor record in human rights, and in turn Cambodia supports Beijing's geopolitical positions on issues such as its claims in the South China Sea

US exports to Cambodia in 2019. The amount of military-related US exports to Cambodia was not immediately available. The US is the largest export market for Cambodia, but three-quarters of its imports are from China and other countries in Asia

CRACKDOWN ON OPPOSITION

In recent years, Hun Sen's government has cracked down on the political opposition, shut media outlets and forced hundreds of Cambodian politicians, human rights activists and journalists into exile

Human rights groups say the government has engaged in arbitrary arrests and other abuses and worked to portray peaceful dissent over corruption and other issues as attempts to overthrow the government

Trump's testimony sought in fraud probe

NEW YORK

NEW York's top justice official wants former US president Donald Trump to testify in an investigation into possible fraud in his namesake real estate group, The Washington Post reported on Wednesday.

State Attorney General Letitia James has asked Trump to testify in person at her office in the probe into whether the Trump Organization may have illegally reported false values on its properties, potentially to gain banking and tax advantages, according to the Post.

James wants Trump to testify on January 7, the Post said, citing people familiar with the matter. There was no immediate comment from either James' office or Trump.

The probe is looking into whether the Trump Organization fraudulently overstated the value of certain properties when seeking bank loans, and later reported much smaller values when declaring assets for tax-related purposes.

Trump's son Eric, who is executive vice president of the Trump Organization, was interviewed by James' office on the issue in October 2020. The former president is facing pressure from several legal probes.

He was questioned for more than four hours on October 18 for a lawsuit by a group of protestors who allege that his security guards assaulted them six years ago. The Trump Organization is also under investigation by the Manhattan district attorney for possible financial crimes and insurance fraud.

In July the Trump Organization and its finance chief, pleaded not guilty in a NY court.

US-led anti-IS coalition ends Iraq combat mission

BAGHDAD

THE US-led coalition against the Islamic State group has finished its combat mission in Iraq and will shift to a training and advisory role, Iraq's national security adviser said on Thursday.

The change of the mission for around 2,500 American troops stationed in the war-battered country by the end of the year was first announced by US President Joe Biden in July when he hosted Iraqi Prime Minister Mustafa al-Kadhemi.

The Iraqi government has been under pressure from powerful pro-Iranian political groups with armed wings that have vehemently demanded all US troops leave the country.

"We are officially announcing the end of the coalition forces' combat mission," national security adviser Qassem al-Aaraji wrote on Twitter.

"The relationship with the international coalition continues in the areas of training, advising and capacity building" of Iraqi forces, he added.

Aaraji was speaking after a meeting between the coalition and the Joint Operations commanders of the Iraqi security forces. In effect, the about 2,500 US and 1,000 other coalition troops deployed in Iraq will remain there. They have been acting as advisers and trainers since mid-2020. IS established a so-called caliphate across swathes of Syria and Iraq from 2014.

It was defeated in Iraq in 2017 after offensives by Iraqi forces with the support of the coalition that has included more than 80 countries, among them Britain, France and several Arab nations.

Even though Iraq declared victory against the IS jihadists in December 2017, the group's remnants still carry out attacks against security forces and civilians and in recent weeks killed several Kurdish fighters in northern Iraq.

The Hashed al-Shaabi, a former coalition of Iraqi paramilitary groups now integrated into the regular forces, an influential political player and ally of Tehran, is particularly virulent about the departure of American troops.

On social media networks, groups close to pro-Iranian factions have been issuing threats and reminding Washington of a December 31 deadline they have set for a full US withdrawal. Iraqi interior ministry media official General Saad Maan told a news conference on Thursday that "the coalition will have completely finished the transition to a non-combat mission before the end of the year".

He was quoting what the coalition commander, Major General John W. Brennan Jr., had said during their meeting. The majority of US troops sent to Iraq in 2014 as part of the coalition were withdrawn under president Donald Trump.

But Iraq remains an important link for Washington's strategic posture, particularly for anti-jihadist operations in neighbouring Syria. AFP

Staffer with gun makes it into Capitol complex in US

WASHINGTON

A congressional staffer carrying a gun was allowed inside the US Capitol complex for several minutes on Thursday before being arrested, even though an X-ray machine at a security checkpoint had picked up the weapon in his bag.

The 57-year-old man told police he had left the handgun in his bag by accident but the incident is sure to raise alarm over ongoing security breaches, almost a year after the deadly January 6 insurrection.

With numerous dignitaries including President Joe Biden due in the Capitol Rotunda for Republican statesman Bob Dole's memorial, the House of Representatives worker was waved through security at the nearby Longworth office block across the road.

The breach was noticed and he was detained four minutes after entering. But the delay was not significantly shorter than the typical duration of mass shootings in the United States. The US Capitol Police did not respond to a request for confirmation of media reports that the gun was loaded.

But the force issued a statement saying officers "spotted the image of a handgun in a bag on the X-ray screen" after the staffer had passed though security.

"The man was tracked down four minutes later and arrested. The owner of the bag was identified as 57-year-old Jeffrey Allsbrooks, a staffer with the House Chief Administrative Office," said the statement said. "Allsbrooks told officers he forgot the gun was in the bag. We are charging him with carrying a pistol without license.

TELCOS' DEMAND

'Govt must ensure enough spectrum at reasonable rate'

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@New Delhi

THE telecom industry is seeking adequate spectrums at reasonable prices with easy payment norms, rationalisation of taxes and levies and reduction in burden on the companies due to old litigations, said Vodofone Managing Director and CEO Ravinder Takkar at India Mobile Congress.

Takkar claimed once the government resolves these issues, the industry will look at improving average revenue per user (ARPU) from abysmally low levels. "Industry players are talking about first making adequate spectrum available at reasonable prices at easy payment terms. Second, rationalising taxes and levies in line with the recommendation of NDCP 2018 and third, reducing the heavy burden of old legacy litigation in the sector," informed Takkar.

All the three private telcos — Reliance Jio, Bharti Airtel and Vodafone Idea — have been advocating for keeping the prices for 5G spectrums nominal. Akhil Gupta, vice chairman Bharti Enterprises, said, the government and the industry must work together to provide broadband for all. "Even the National Digital Communications Policy of 2018 (NDCP) says revenue maximisation is not an objective of the government but broadband for all is. For that we need to price 5G spectrum minimally while keeping stringent roll out obligations," informed Gupta. Gupta welcomed the government relief package for the telecom industry but called it a temporary relief. He said in order to take 5G to every nook and cranny in the country, telcos need large amounts of capital to invest in the technology.

Telecom Regulatory Authority of India has earmarked 3300-3600 MHz band for 5G, the price of which has been fixed at ₹492 cr per unit. It has sought views from stakeholders on reserve price and other issues related to spectrum auction.

Blanket ban on crypto not desirable: Jalan

In an interview with TNIE, former RBI governor suggests framework to regulate the currency, ensure transparency

SUNITHA NATTI

CRYPTOCURRENCIES should be classified as currency (not as legal tender) and the central bank, in consultation with the government, should be its regulator, according to Dr Bimal Jalan, former Governor of the Reserve Bank of India (RBI).

He added that a blanket ban on cryptocurrencies isn't desirable and once it's classified as currency, the government can deliberate on the taxation aspects and at what tax rate capital gains on cryptocurrencies can be imposed.

"They (cryptocurrencies) are ok, but should be regulated and have transparency. A blanket ban is not desirable as they exist all over the world. A ban is not appropriate. What we need is a regulatory framework, ensuring transparency," Jalan told TNIE. But without regulation, he believes it's better not to have cryptocurrencies at all.

RBI has maintained that cryptocurrencies were a serious concern and shouldn't be permitted given the challenges they can pose for macroeconomic and financial sector stability.

"The central bank should be the regulator and make sure whatever is done in cryptocurrencies, the data is available to the public, which is not so today. Data should be public just as today we know how much money is introduced by RBI and by the government in terms of borrowings and others...same thing should happen with crypto and digital currencies," Jalan added.

Governments are divided on categorising cryptos. If some countries like El Salvador approved Bitcoin as legal tender, others like China have imposed stringent regulations.

Meanwhile, another former RBI Governor Duvvuri Subbarao has said the central bank could lose control over money supply and inflation management if cryptocurrency is allowed in the country. Speaking at a webinar, Rao also said India's case for issuing a central bank digital currency (CBDC) may not be strong as there are capital controls. "Crypto is backed by algorithms and there is fear that the central bank might lose control over money supply and inflation management. There are also concerns that crypto will disrupt monetary policy," he said on Wednesday.

The Cryptocurrency and Regulation of Official Digital Currency Bill, 2021 seeks to create a facilitative framework for the creation of the official digital currency to be issued by the RBI. The Bill also seeks to prohibit all private cryptocurrencies, however, it allows for certain exceptions to promote the underlying technology of cryptocurrency and its uses.

Treat crypto as securities of special class, says CII

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

AS the government is formulating new bill to regulate cryptocurrencies, Confederation of Indian Industries suggested that cryptocurrency or digital tokens should be treated as securities of a special class and a new set of regulations appropriate to the context should be evolved and applied.

It is also recommended to impose tax reporting requirements on participants who are investing or dealing in crypto assets (whether through a centralised crypto exchange or otherwise) through specific disclosures in income tax returns.

"To support this obligation, centralised exchanges may be required to maintain minimum capital and guarantee fund while complying with investor disclosure requirements which are prescribed by regulations from time to time, with respect to trading and investment risks," it said.

It further said that the government should consider setting up a standing advisory council comprising representatives of regulators, policymakers, and other stakeholders who can advise on the challenges associated with the new asset class.

It had suggested that the centralised exchanges and custody providers that may be established in India, must be required to register with SEBI and to adhere to KYC and AML compliance requirements that apply to financial markets intermediaries, it said, adding they should be held legally accountable for the safekeeping of the digital tokens in digital wallets.

China realtor default unlikely to hit Indian mrkt

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

CHINA'S second largest property developer Evergrande, which had rattled markets worldwide late September, has defaulted for the first time.

This default was confirmed by Fitch Rating which on Thursday downgraded the company and its subsidiaries to "restricted default". This means that the debt-laden firm has missed to meet its financial obligations.

"Fitch Ratings has downgraded to 'RD' (Restricted Default), from 'C', the Long-Term Foreign-Currency Issuer Default Ratings (IDR) of Chinese homebuilder China Evergrande Group and its subsidiaries, Hengda Real Estate Group Co, and Tianji Holding," said Fitch in a note.

According to Fitch, "The downgrades reflect the non-payment of coupons due November 6, 2021 for Tianji's $645 million 13% bonds and $590 million 13.75% bonds after the grace period lapsed on December 6. The non-payment is consistent with an 'RD' rating, signifying the uncured expiry of any applicable grace period, cure period or default forbearance period following a payment default on a material financial obligation," Fitch said.

Evergrande has a total liability of whopping $300 billion. Economist and market analysts have worried for months that a default by the property giant could trigger a wider crisis in China's property market and the financial market worldwide.

According to equity market analysts, the default was in expected lines and it is unlikely to have any major impact on Indian equity market which at present is going through a volatile phase.

VK Vijayakumar, cheif investment strategist at Geojit Financial Services, said, "Evergrande default is a known risk largely discounted by the market. Normally, known and expected factors do not create sharp market corrections. The Chinese central bank has been injecting liquidity into the market to preempt any possible credit market crisis. Presently, there is no possibility of this becoming a global contagion impacting markets. However, the situation has to be watched closely."

Gaurav Garg, Head, Research, CapitalVia, said, "Evergrand's default was much expected by the street, and I believe this will make insignificant impact over the Indian equities. Global markets have seen mild affects of it as global futures are trading with mild losses since morning."

CIL dispatches 340 MT fuel to coal-based power plants

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

GOVERNMENT-OWNED Coal India Limited (CIL) on Thursday informed that despite recent mismatch between demand and supply, supplies from the company propelled coal based power generation growth by 22.5% during April-November 2021. It dispatched 340 MTs fuel to coal based power plants during the period.

CIL said in a statement that this dispels the notion that the recent mismatch between unprecedented coal demand and supply may have affected the power output.

"At a thumb rule specific coal consumption of 0.67 Kg, that is the quantity of coal required to generate one unit of power, CIL's coal helped generate 507.46 Billion Units (BU) of power during the referred period spurring 22.5% growth compared to 414.08 BU same period last year," said Coal India in a statement.

As compared to a pre-pandemic April-November 2019, the growth in power generation from CIL's coal is 16% when dispatch to power plants was 292.88 MTs. This translates to a generation of 437.13 BU.

"Dispelling the notion that the recent mismatch between unprecedented coal demand and supply may have affected the power output, domestic coal-based power generation at 641.87 BU in fact grew by 19.8% during April-November '21 on a year-on-year comparison. Of this generation, CIL's coal accounted for 79%," said a senior executive of the company.

The company also informed that power generation by 14 plants that source coal from overseas, fell by 42.7%.

Better.com CEO sorry for mass firing via Zoom call

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@New Delhi

THE chief executive officer (CEO) of mortgage lender Better.com has apologised for the way he handled layoffs at the company after a video of him firing 900 people last week in a three-minute long Zoom call went viral on social media.

"I realise that the way I communicated this news made a difficult situation worse," Garg said in a letter.

"I failed to show the appropriate amount of respect and appreciation for the individuals who were affected and for their contributions to Better. I own the decision to do the layoffs, but in communicating it I blundered the execution. In doing so, I embarrassed you," Garg said in the letter leaked on Blind app by a verified Better.com employee.

Garg came under criticism across the world for the way he communicated the layoff decision to the 900 employees just ahead of the holiday season.

The sacked employees, mainly in the US and India, comprised about 9% of the digital mortgage lender.

TechCrunch speculated that the lay-offs may have been a condition for Better.com's backers — which include SoftBank — greenlighting a sooner-than-expected cash infusion of $750 million.

Several Indian CEOs also expressed shock and criticised the layoff incident on social media.

Founded in 2016 and headquartered in New York, Better.com offers mortgage and insurance products to homeowners through its online platform.

Tiger Woods to comeback next week

Tiger Woods said on Wednesday he will make his return to competitive golf at next week's PGA Tour PNC in Florida. Woods, who has not played since suffering career-threatening leg injuries in a car crash earlier this year, will play in the December 16-19 event alongside his son Charlie. "Although it's been a long and challenging year, I am very excited to close it out by competing with my son Charlie," Woods announced.

LACK OF INSPIRATION

The goals dried. The influx of world-class players stopped. Money was in short supply. Lionel Messi moved on. And all of these factors combined to erode the team of inspiration. An elite outfit has now been replaced by a middling team that has no talismen.

A LACK OF GOALS

Even as their descent began a good few years ago, they never struggled for goals. With Messi and a serviceable forward line, they always scored. This season, they managed two in six games. That's one of their lowest-ever totals after the group stages.

NO PLANNING

The management knew they had no money to spend. The world knew they had no money. Yet, there was no coherent vision or master plan. Their recent games against Bayern Munich, beaten 0-3 on Wednesday, is the logical endpoint for a strategy so devoid of modern planning or tactics.

Yastika, Jhansi power India A to Women's Challenger title

GOMESH S @ Chennai

POOJA VASTRAKAR is 22 years old. She is a young all-rounder rising through the ranks in the Indian team. But, Vastrakar doesn't see herself the same way in her state team, or the India D side that she led to the final of the Women's Challenger Trophy in Vijayawada.

Going into the title clash, Vastrakar had scored 161 runs in four innings, averaging 53.66. At the opposite end was 26-year-old Sneh Rana, whose India A side managed to pip India B and C on net run rate to qualify for the final. They were against an unbeaten India D, but the Railways all-rounder and India A coach Nooshin AL Khadeer knew a thing or two about winning domestic titles.

Batting first, India D openers started well, adding 47 runs for the first wicket. After Indrani Roy got out, S Meghana kept the innings going with G Divya, but the aggressive duo fell in quick succession. In-form Vastrakar got run out for the second time against India A as her team slumped from 101/3 to 117/5. All-rounder Amanjot Kaur came to the rescue, taking the team to 219/8 with an unbeaten 74-ball 55.

In reply, Keerthy K James struck early for India D, but CH Jhansi Lakshmi and Yastika Bhatia hung in there and took their team forward. The left-handed pair brought up their half-centuries. It seemed like there was a twist in the tale when Rajeshwari Gayakwad picked up four wickets, including the two set batters. However, Sushree Dibyadarshini held her nerve, taking India A to the title.

Acknowledging that they were 30 runs short, Vastrakart felt that her run out was the turning point in the first innings. "After the way we started, I thought we couldn't finish well. We needed at least 250 on this wicket. But our bowlers Rajeshwari and Keethy performed well helping get closer to the title."

Referring to the young bowlers bache, the 22-year-old said that they will learn from the experience of playing in the tournament. "Me and Raja di (Rajeshwari) were trying to build dot-ball pressure but our young bowlers went searching for wickets a little bit. But we are a young team. They got some good experience," she said, adding that Kanika Ahuja, Saika Ishaque, Amanjot Kaur, and Ayushi Soni were the shining lights of her team. Yastika was the player of the match for her knock of 86. The Baroda southpaw — who had been in good form since her India debut in Australia — expressed her disappointment for not seeing through the chase.

When the national selectors and India head coach Ramesh Powar were seen in the ground, it was understood that they wanted to have a look at a bigger pool of players to pick from with the ODI World Cup next year. It seems like there will be an India training camp shortly. "I have learned many things from here. For me, next stop is the upcoming India camp and I will be working to improve my fitness," she said.

Brief scores: India D 219/8 in 50 ovs (Amanjot 55 n.o, Meghana 45; Kasat 3/39) lost to India A 224/7 in 45.4 ovs (Yastika 86, Jhansi 64; Rajeshwari 4/36).

Women's hockey team misses out on Asian meet

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN
@Chennai

IT looks like Indian women's team's Asian Champions League campaign is over. A day after one of the athletes returned a positive Covid-19 test, the team's name has been removed from the fixtures list. They were scheduled to play Japan in their last group stage match on Saturday but that fixture has since been struck down by the organisers.

With Malaysia's earlier withdrawal following a positive Covid case, the continental event has now become a four-team affair, with the final advanced by a day. Saturday is now finals day with 'China vs Thailand' a 3rd-4th place match. The competition will end with Japan and hosts South Korea facing each other in the final. Curiously, both Hockey India as well as the Asian Hockey Federation (AHF) refused to confirm if India had indeed withdrawn from the tournament.

On Wednesday, after there was one positive test within the Indian team, HI put out a tweet confirming that their match on Thursday wouldn't go ahead. Since then, they haven't put out any statement about whether the team would come back to India at the earliest opportunity or if the entire contingent would have to serve a quarantine period in South Korea before coming back. The ACT was going to be new coach Janneke Schopman's first with the team after Sjoerd Marijne had stepped down following the fourth place finish at the Olympics in Tokyo. In India's opener, they had beaten Thailand 13-0 before the positive case hit the camp.

One wonders what implications this would have on the men's tournament, scheduled to begin in Dhaka on December 14.

TN too good for Karnataka

MARTIN JOSEPH @Kochi

TAMIL Nadu secured their second straight win in the Vijay Hazare Trophy with an eight-wicket win over Karnataka in their Elite Group B encounter at Sports Hub International Stadium in Thiruvananthapuram on Thursday.

After beating Mumbai in their first game, Tamil Nadu dominated Karnataka after restricting them to 122 and then chasing it down in 28 overs with eight wickets to spare.

Maniraman Siddharth (4/23) and Sai Kishore (3/28) were the standout bowlers for Tamil Nadu as all Karnataka batsmen, except skipper Manish Pandey (40) and Rohan Kadam (37), failed to register double-digit scores. Tamil Nadu won at a canter as Baba Indrajith (51 n.o.) and Washington Sundar (31 n.o.) with a 68-run partnership after losing their openers.

They've also opened a four-point lead at the top of Group B ahead of Karnataka, Bengal, Mumbai and Puducherry who are all on four points.

Puducherry secured their first win after beating Bengal by eight runs thanks to the VJD method in a rain-hit match.

Batting first, Bengal posted 264/8 and Puducherry were 132/2 when rain stopped play.

Meanwhile, Venkatesh Iyer produced an all-round display to help Madhya Pradesh outplay Kerala and register a 40-run win. A stunning 84-ball-112 which included a 169-run partnership with Shubham Sharma (82) helped MP finish 329/9 after being put to bat first.

Kerala began the chase with a 68-run partnership between openers Rohan K and Mohammed Azharuddeen (34). Once Rohan was dismissed for 66, Kerala's chase lost momentum. Sachin Baby's (66) efforts in the middle overs were not enough.

Hyderabad also made it two-in-two with 79-run win over Delhi. Tilak Varma (139) and Chandan Sahani (87) helped the Tanmay Agarwal led side post 325/6. The bowlers led by Tanay Thyagarajan (3/33) did the rest as they restricted Delhi to 246/9. Meanwhile, Andhra slumped to their second straight defeat after an eight-wicket defeat against Vidarbha in their Elite Group A match in Mumbai. Odisha kept pace with Vidarbha with a thrilling three wicket win over Gujarat.

Ganguly on Virat issue

NEW DELHI: BCCI president Sourav Ganguly said that once Virat Kohli refused to continue as India's T20 captain, the selectors made up their mind to hand the ODI reins to Rohit Sharma as the national team couldn't afford "too much leadership" with two separate captains in the limited-overs format. He said the selectors felt multiple leaders in white-ball would lead to confusion.

Australia get Head-start

RUNS	BALLS	FOUR	SIX	STRIKE RATE

Travis Head smashed the joint-third fastest Ashes hundred on Day Two of the first Test between Australia and England at Brisbane on Thursday | AFP

AFP @Brisbane

TRAVIS Head blasted a rapid-fire century to crush England hopes on the second day of the opening Ashes Test at the Gabba on Thursday. At the close of play Australia were 343-7, a lead of 196 on England's dismal first-innings total of 147.

Head was on 112 from only 95 balls, alongside Mitchell Starc, who was not-out 10.

England had threatened a comeback after tea when Ollie Robinson took two wickets in consecutive balls, but Head's aggressive innings put paid to any hopes of a miracle recovery.

Head came to the crease with Australia 189-3 after Steve Smith edged Mark Wood to keeper Jos Buttler just before tea. He then watched David Warner (94) and Cameron Green depart to Robinson's accurate seamers after the break, with Australia still only 89 runs ahead.

But the 27-year-old Head attacked from the outset and was particularly harsh on spinners Jack Leach and Joe Root. He smashed two sixes and 12 boundaries in his century, his third overall and his first since the Boxing Day Test against New Zealand in 2019.

Leach, 1-95 from 11 overs, failed to assert any control and with Ben Stokes also struggling for fitness, skipper Root had to rely heavily on his three-man seam attack.

Brief scores: England 147 in 50.1 ovs vs Australia 343/7 in 84 ovs (Warner 94, Labuschagne 74, Head 112 n.o, Robinson 3/48).

CRISIS

IOC continues to be hit with questions about Peng Shuai

ASSOCIATED PRESS

INTERNATIONAL Olympic Committee (IOC) President Thomas Bach can't escape repeated questions about Peng Shuai and issues raised by two video calls the IOC has had with her.

The calls were aimed at conveying a message that Peng was safe despite being absent from public view after the three-time Olympic tennis player accused a top Chinese politician of sexual assault almost six weeks ago.

The questions keep coming, even overshadowing a diplomatic boycott of the Beijing Winter Olympics called by the United States, Britain, Canada, Australia, and Lithuania.

Bach has acknowledged that Peng's situation is "fragile." He is in the midst of three days of executive board meetings in Switzerland focused on the opening of the Games in Beijing on February 4. But many of the questions at the daily press briefings are about Peng.

"You have to respect this human being," Bach said on Wednesday. "And in such a fragile situation (that) Peng Shuai is in, you have to make all the efforts to build trust. To engage in a human relationship. And this, as you can appreciate, is not easy in a video call."

Bach said the IOC initiated both calls with Chinese sports officials. He said the IOC was open to more calls and did not rule out an "independent" party being involved. Tennis legend Martina Navratilova was suggested to Bach.

Bach said Peng's wishes had to be respected, and he said she has asked for privacy. No transcript of the calls was provided by the IOC, and Bach has never mentioned her sexual assault allegations against former Politburo Standing Committee member Zhang Gaoli.

"Why don't you respect Peng Shuai in this and let her decide where her priorities are," Bach said. He said that other parties were involved in the first two calls including what he termed a "native Chinese on the call."

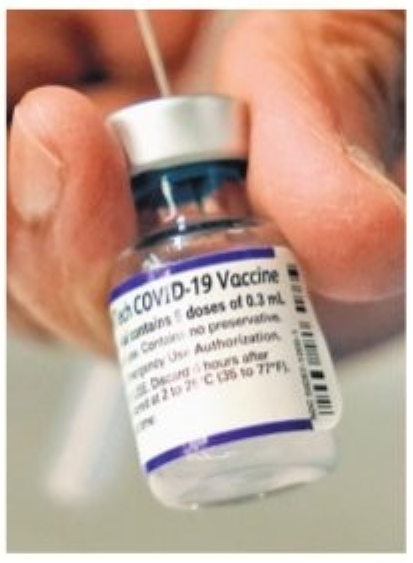
Pharma races to update Covid shots

Prepared to fight adverse impact of Omicron variant, vaccine makers reformulate their jabs

MEDICINE



Vaccine makers are racing to update their Covid-19 shots against the newest coronavirus threat even before it's clear a change is needed, just in case.

Experts doubt today's shots will become useless but say it's critical to see how fast companies could produce a reformulated dose and prove it works – because whatever happens with omicron, this newest mutant won't be the last.

Omicron "is pulling the fire alarm. Whether it turns out to be a false alarm, it would be really good to know if we can actually do this -- get a new vaccine rolled out and be ready," said immunologist E. John Wherry of the University of Pennsylvania.

It's too soon to know how vaccines will hold up against omicron. The first hints this week were mixed: Preliminary lab tests suggest two Pfizer doses may not prevent an omicron infection but they could protect against severe illness. And a booster shot may rev up immunity enough to do both.

Better answers are expected in the coming weeks and regulators in the U.S. and other countries are keeping a close watch. The World Health Organization has appointed an independent scientific panel to advise on whether the shots need reformulating.

But authorities haven't laid out what would trigger such a drastic step: If vaccine immunity against serious illness drops, or if a new mutant merely spreads faster?

"This is not trivial," BioNTech CEO Ugur Sahin, Pfizer's vaccine partner, said shortly before omicron's discovery. A company could apply to market a new formula "but what happens if another company makes another proposal with another variant? We don't have an agreed strategy."

If vaccines do need tweaking, there's still another question: Should there be a separate omicron booster or a combination shot? And if it's a combo, should it target the original strain along with omicron, or the currently dominant delta variant plus omicron? So far, the original vaccines have offered at least some cross-protection against prior variants. Even if immunity against omicron isn't as good, experts hope the big antibody jump triggered by booster doses will compensate.

Those who got Covaxin should get booster too?

The World Health Organization on Thursday recommended a booster vaccine dose for people who are immuno-compromised or those who received an inactivated vaccine such as Covaxin, news agency Reuters reported on Thursday. This is largely in line with the guidance the WHO's Strategic Advisory Group of Experts (SAGE) gave in October, recommending again that administering primary vaccine doses should be prioritised over giving booster shots.

FDA approves long-term drug for coronavirus

MEDICINE

US health officials have authorised a new Covid-19 antibody drug for people with serious health problems or allergies who can't get adequate protection from vaccination.

Antibody drugs have been a standard Covid-19 treatment for over a year. But the AstraZeneca antibody drug, Evushield, cleared by the US FDA is different. It's the first intended for long-term prevention against Covid-19, rather than a short-term treatment.

People who could benefit from the antibody drug include cancer patients, organ transplant recipients and people taking immune-suppressing drugs for conditions like rheumatoid arthritis. Health experts estimate 2% to 3% of the US population falls into that group.

The drug is for adults and children 12 and older whose immune systems haven't responded adequately.

Zap the oceans to slow climate change, experts recommend

The United States should research how to tinker with the oceans — even zapping them with electricity — to get them to suck more carbon dioxide out of the air to fight climate change, the country's National Academy of Sciences recommends

$1BN

A panel of science advisers has asked the US government to spend more than $1 billion over the next decade to figure out the potential pitfalls and most effective methods of getting the world's oceans to suck up more carbon

FUTURE NEED

The issue needs to be examined, the academy said, because something more than reducing carbon emissions likely needs to be done to take heat-trapping gases out of the air if the world is to meet the 2015 Paris climate goals of limiting future warming to a few more tenths of a degree from now

2050

By mid-century, the world will probably need to take about 10 billion metric tons of carbon dioxide out of the air annually, the report said

> We don't start down this road now of the research, we might have to make decisions with insufficient information
>
> Panel chairman Scott Doney, a biogeochemist at the University of Virginia

Six ocean-based strategies

The academy outlined six ways that could help oceans remove more heat-trapping carbon dioxide from the atmosphere

1. GIVING A JOLT

Electrical jolting the oceans to make them less acidic. Water that's more alkaline can suck up more carbon. It also helps fight one of climate change's harms — acidic ocean waters that damage shellfish and reefs. Scientists are confident the approach would work because it is basic chemistry

2. MINERAL INFUSION

Using minerals to make the ocean to make it less acidic. This would be somewhat expensive and risky

3. NUTRIENT SHOT

Adding nutrients like phosphorus or nitrogen to the ocean surface. This would spur photosynthesis by plankton, which would breathe in the carbon dioxide then sink

4. SEAWEED FARMS

Large-scale seaweed farming with the plants absorb carbon and transport them into the deep ocean or into sediments

5. REVIVING ECOSYSTEM

Ecosystem recovery would help marine animals, plants and the coastal environment become healthier and absorb more carbon. It has low environmental risk but also low-to-medium chances of working

6. CAUSING WAVES

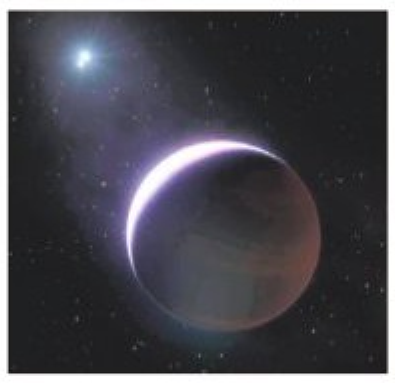
Artificial waves creating upwelling and downwelling to stimulate plankton growth. Upwelling shifts cooler, CO2-rich deep water to the surface and downwelling shifts surface water and carbon to the deep ocean

New planet's mass equals 10 Jupiters

SPACE

LONDON: A team of astronomers has captured an image of the hottest and most massive planet-hosting star system found to date.

The giant planet, named b Centauri (AB)b or b Centauri b, is located approximately 325 light-years away in the Centaurus constellation. It was detected orbiting a young massive binary star called b Centauri.



Visible to the naked eye, b Centauri b is 10 times more massive than Jupiter, making it one of the most massive planets ever found.

Moreover, it revolves around the binary star at a staggering 100 times greater distance than Jupiter does from the Sun, one of the widest orbits discovered yet. This large distance from the central pair of stars could be key to the planet's survival. However, the planet is not to be confused with beta Centauri, a bright binary star.

"Finding a planet around b Centauri was very exciting since it completely changes the picture about massive stars hosting planets," explained Markus Janson, an astronomer at Stockholm University, Sweden.

The only 15 million years old b Centauri binary star has at least six times the mass of the Sun. This property makes it by far the most massive stellar system around which astronomers have found a planet. Until now, previous studies had failed to detect any such object around a star more than three times as massive as the Sun.

Most massive stars are also very hot, and this system is no exception: its primary star is a so-called B-type star that is over three times hotter than the Sun. It emits large amounts of UV and X-ray radiation.

Street art for Notre-Dame?

ARCHITECTURE

A controversial redesign of the interior of Notre-Dame cathedral in Paris — including possible street art installations and softer mood lighting — will be considered by heritage authorities on Thursday. Church authorities are adamant the plans -- part of a rebuilding project following a fire in 2019 – are not revolutionary. But the prospective changes have already sparked criticism, with around 100 public figures putting their names to an opinion piece in right-wing paper Le Figaro saying they "entirely undermine the decor and religious space".

NZ TO BAN SMOKING FOR FUTURE GENERATIONS

HEALTH

A New Zealand's government believes it has come up with a unique plan to end tobacco smoking — a lifetime ban for those aged 14 or younger.

Under a new law the government announced Thursday and plans to pass next year, the minimum age to buy cigarettes would keep rising year after year. That means, in theory at least, 65 years after the law takes effect, shoppers could still buy cigarettes — but only if they could prove they were at least 80 years old.

In practice, officials hope smoking will fade away decades before then. Indeed, the plan sets a goal of having fewer than 5% of New Zealanders smoking by 2025.

Other parts of the plan include allowing only the sale of tobacco products with very low nicotine levels and slashing the number of stores that can sell them. The changes would be brought in over time to help retailers adjust.

Because the current minimum age to buy cigarettes in New Zealand is 18, the lifetime smoking ban for youth wouldn't have an impact for a few years.

New Zealand's Associate Health Minister Dr. Ayesha Verrall spoke about her work at a public hospital: "You meet, every day, someone facing the misery caused by tobacco. The most horrible ways people die. Being short of breath, caused by tobacco."
